Marin Voters Back Kuchel, McCarthy

Three Bond Issues Lose; One Supervisor Elected

Marin voters yesterday ousted an incumbent county supervisor, defeated three local bond measures but passed two tax rate hikes, and—contrary to much of the rest of the state—favored Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel and Eugene J. McCarthy.

Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., 34-year-old former Fairfax city councilman, overwhelmed incumbent Ernest N. Kettenhofen and was elected by a 2 to 1 margin in the Second District.
(See election stories, pages 25 and 31)

It was the only supervisorial race settled yesterday, as incumbent Thomas T. Storer was narrowly forced into a November runoff with San Rafael City Councilman Louis H. Baar for the Fourth District seat.

In the Third District, Michael Wornum, former Mill Valley City Councilman, and Donald J. O'Leary, Tiburon attorney and business consultant emerged from a six-man field into a two-man runoff.

BOND ISSUES FAIL

The three local bond measures that failed to win the necessary two-thirds approval were a $510,000 measure in San Anselmo School District and measures for $350,000 and $200,000 in the City of Fairfax.

Higher tax rates were approved in Sausalito School District and in the Marinwood Community Services District.

The "peace" resolution in Sausalito passed.

Unification of the Tomales Joint Union High School District also passed, but the assumption of bonded indebtdness by the unified district was defeated.

ON GOP SIDE

Arrigoni Victory Decisive

Former Fairfax City Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. scored a decisive upset victory over incumbent Ernest N. Kettenhofen to win the second district supervisorial seat in yesterday's primary election.

Arrigoni won by a two-to-one margin, 9,890, or 66.44 per cent of the vote, to 4,995, representing 33.55 per cent of the vote.

For Kettenhofen, chairman of the board of supervisors, it was a reversal of the victory he scored when he unseated then incumbent William D. Fusselman four years ago.

Before the election, the two-man race had been rated a toss-up with Kettenhofen having the advantage of being the incumbent.

Arrigoni, 36, an assistant manager of a San Francisco investment firm, was a member of the Fairfax City Council from 1964 until this April when he decided not to seek re-election in order to run for supervisor.

Before serving on the Fairfax City Council, Arrigoni had been a member of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission.

A native of San Francisco, he attended elementary and high schools in San Francisco, and was graduated from the College of Marin and the University of

Run-Off Race For Wornum, O'Leary In Third District

Michael Wornum, former Mill Valley councilman, and Donald J. O'Leary, a Tiburon attorney and business consultant, will face a run-off in November for the supervisorial seat in the third district.

Wornum with 7,150 votes and O'Leary with 3,452 votes, finished first and second in a six-man race for the seat left open when Supervisor Peter H. Behr decided not to seek re-election.

Neither received the majority necessary for a victory in the primary yesterday, but Wornum had the largest percentage, 40.94

Margaret B. Azevedo of Tiburon, a member of the Marin County Planning Commission was third with 2,221 votes; Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., a Marin City pastor, fourth with 1,958 votes; Carl Hepp of Mill Valley was fifth with 1,506 votes; and Ben A. Farlatti, Tiburon businessman, sixth with 1,177.

Wornum, a 43-year-old architect and planner, had been considered a strong contender since the start of the race, but the 38-year-old O'Leary, a late comer in the campaign, was an unknown quantity.

Wornum was elected to the Mill Valley City Council in 1960, served as mayor in 1964-65 and left the council in April because he was running for supervisor.

O'Leary, who had served on the Tiburon Planning Commission, is engaged in his first bid for public office

Condition Critical After Brain Surgery

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy lay gravely wounded today, his condition extremely critical after surgeons removed all but a fragment of a bullet fired into his brain by a swarthy young gunman seeking to veto the political verdict of California Democrats.

The man accused of the shooting was captured on the spot and later identified as Sirhan Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian born in Jerusalem.

A team of brain surgeons operated for 3 hours and 40 minutes, striving to save the life of the New York senator — brother of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy — shot down at the moment of his greatest victory as he campaigned for the White House.

One of the operating team was quoted as saying there was but a slim chance of Kennedy's recovery. Dr. Henry Cuneo was said to have told an associate "the outcome may be extremely tragic."

Kennedy's press secretary, Frank Manciewicz reported at 2:15 p.m. that the Senator was still unconscious and that tests performed by doctors "do not show measurable improvement" in the victim's condition.

"His condition as of 1:30 p.m. remains extremely critical," Manciewicz reported. "His life forces — temperature, pulse, heart, remain good." He said his breathing is artificially assisted.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty said the identification finally was made by Sirhan's brother, Munier "Joe" Sirhan, with whom he lived in Pasadena, Calif. Yorty said Los Angeles police traced the Sirhans and another brother, Adel Sirhan, through the gun the assailant used. (The gun once was owned by a Marinite; see story on page 4.)

More than nine hours after the shooting, Yorty announced the identification of the alleged gunman. He would not speculate

Kennedy Captures California

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy defeated Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in yesterday's Democratic presidential primary in California before he was shot early today emerging from a victory celebration.

The shooting was sure to spread confusion through the Democratic party, which already has suffered a series of shocks this year. If the shooting should take Kennedy out of the campaign, it would leave McCarthy as the only voice of dissent against the administration.

Before the California primary; it was presumed that this most crucial primary contest of 1968 would destroy the loser's chances of winning the Democratic presidential nomination.

However, McCarthy had said last night, before the results were conclusive and before Kennedy was shot, that he would go on with his campaign.

Drath Is Nominated; Mailliard, Clausen Win

Drath's opponent in the November general election, Republican William S. Mailliard of San Francisco, was unopposed in the primary. His district includes all of Marin except Novato and West Marin, and the western half of San Francisco.

Graham's opponent, Republican Don H. Clausen of Crescent City, also was unopposed in the primary.

Drath, unsuccessful candidate against Supervisor Thomas T. Storer for the First District nomination in 1966, got 12,802 votes in Marin, and 29,383 in San Francisco. Thurner got 9,209 in Marin and 20,509 in San Francisco.

Clausen got 3,642 votes in Marin, and Mailliard got 19,023.

Mrs. Gladys L. O'Neal of Carmichael, Sacramento County, uncontested American Independent Party candidate in the First District, got 16 votes in Marin.

Rafferty Has Lead Over Sen. Kuchel

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty, an outspoken conservative, today defeated U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, assistant Republican floor leader, for the GOP senatorial nomination in California.

Rafferty took an unbeatable lead as late reporting precincts in his strongholds in populous Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties tabulated the votes from yesterday's primary.

Kuchel led in early returns.

Former State Controller Alan Cranston won the Democratic nomination, besting state Sen. Anthony Beilenson, public utilities commissioner William R. Bennett of Kentfield and two minor opponents.

Rafferty, 51, stressed that Kuchel refused to endorse 1964 GOP Presidential Candidate Barry Goldwater, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., or Gov. Ronald Reagan in their general election contests.

Kuchel, a 16-year senate veteran, responded that his election as the No. 2 man in the GOP leadership were proof of his Republican credentials.

Kuchel was the last survivor of the Earl Warren Republican dynasty in California. Warren,

Troops On Alert After Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several thousand Army troops have been placed on alert as a precautionary measure as a result of the attempted assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it was learned today.

Officials emphasized that at this point no troop deployments are planned but "we're watching the situation" in case violence should break out in Los Angeles, Washington or elsewhere.

Bagley Easy Winner, Faces Mertle In Assembly Fight

Assemblyman William T. Bagley easily turned aside his first primary election challenger yesterday and won almost three-quarters of Republican ballots cast in the Seventh Assembly District.

Bagley's challenger, Charles (Clay) Barham of Novato, got 12,039 votes. Bagley got 30,952 votes, or 72 per cent of the Marin and Sonoma County vote.

In the Democratic primary in the Seventh Assembly District, Robert E. Mertle of San Rafael was unopposed for his party's nomination. He got 32,880 votes, 23,134 in Marin and 9,746 in Sonoma County.

"We've had an attack from the far right," Bagley said last night of Barham after the results were in. "The intelligent Republican voters recognized and rejected this onslaught from the right," said Bagley.

Allied Tanks Rip Viet Cong Hold In Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied tanks blasted into a six-block guerrilla stronghold in Saigon today and cleared the Viet Cong from all but three buildings.

Tank cannon blew gaping holes in the houses the Viet Cong had used as fortresses for six days and killed at least 34 guerrillas.

USE ROCKETS

The attacking South Vietnamese troops also used captured Communist B40 rockets in their drive in the capital's heavily Chinese Cholon quarter. The rockets can rip apart an armored vehicle and had been seized earlier in the battle that began Friday.

Six South Vietnamese troops were killed in the house to house fighting, government spokesmen said.

On the northeast edge of Saigon, South Vietnam marines today killed at least 38 guerrillas and captured another 14 in the area of the Binh Loi bridge. Nearby a South Vietnam river patrol killed two more Viet Cong. They identified one as commander of the guerrillas in the bridge area.

PUBLICITY MOVE?

Last night the Viet Cong who, according to captured documents was trying to gain prestige publicity in attacking Saigon, slammed 18 rockets and mortar shells into the capital. The barrage killed five South Vietnamese civilians and wounded 21 more.

In the Central Highlands, where North Vietnamese invaders have been building up for and expected offensive, the Communists today fired at least 30 shells into Pleiku City, killing three South Vietnamese and wounding 12.

In other developents:

The official Vietnam Press news agency said the South Vietnamese general commanding the Saigon area, Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, has resigned after being criticized for the guerrilla invasion of the capital.

A leading importer said he sold rupees 380,000 ($80,000) worth of tranquilizers during the first half of 1967 which was rupees 70,000 ($14,750) more than he had sold in all of 1966.

ACCUSES CLARK—Lola Mae Brooks of Sunflower County, Miss., points at Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark (back to camera), accusing him of being unconcerned about the poor. She was among a group of Poor People's Campaigners who finally got to see Clark yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Poor People's Leaders Differ On Drive Aims

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Leaders of the Poor People's March are dissociating themselves from the campaign aims voiced by Bayard Rustin, creating the sharpest split to date in the movement and clouding the prospects of a planned mass sympathy demonstration.

Rustin, the prominent civil rights leader asked to organize the once-postponed June 19 demonstration, issued a statement Sunday wrapping the campaign's broad demands into a neat, five-part package. It dealt with jobs, housing, welfare, education and farm employment.

Yesterday Rev. Ralph David Abernathy and other campaign leaders blasted Rustin for speaking "out of order" and without their approval.

"I did not authorize his statement and ... I do not think it is comprehensive enough to cover the demands of the Poor People's campaign," Abernathy said in Florida, adding that he would "issue a statement once I have a chance to discuss it with Mr. Rustin."

"The goals of the campaign have not been modified and Bayard's statement was completely out of order," he said.

Rustin was unavailable for comment in New York, but one of his aides told UPI he had personally heard Abernathy authorize the statement.

His plan narrowed the campaign's "jobs or income now" goal to an "economic bill of rights" that included "meaningful" jobs for every American able to work and a guarantee "adequate" income for those who are not.

Some key Congressmen sympathetic to the poor people's demands quickly endorsed the Rustin statement in hopes that it would be received more warmly by their colleagues.

Meanwhile, a committee of 100 poor people's marchers finally won their long battle to see Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark. The delegation, representing Mexican-Americans, Indians, Appalachian poor whites and Negroes, waited eight hours yesterday in an unsuccessful bid to talk with Clark.

Hanoi Peacemakers Reject LBJ's New Restraint Bid

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam today formally rejected President Johnson's latest call for reciprocal restraint in the Vietnam war. The Hanoi delegate called it an "absurd demand."

Chief Communist delegate Xuan Thuy told the seventh session of the Vietnam talks, "Once again, I express my regret to find nothing new in President Johnson's statement on May 28 and 30 compared with his March 31 speech."

"It is the same for the part referring to the Vietnam problem in President Johnson's statement yesterday, Thuy said. "It is the United States which has pursued its aggression, intensified its war and still clings to its absurd demand for the so-called reciprocity, thus preventing the Paris conversations from making progress."

U.S. envoy W. Averell Harriman reported that the United States is "ready now, today" to discuss the halt of bombing "and related matters." He said he must first discuss the question of neighboring Laos.

"It is a fact that North Vietnam is waging not one war but several wars in Laos," Harriman charged.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Spy Plane Down

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A high-altitude U.S. reconnaissance plane and its pilot have been missing in the Pacific area since yesterday while on a "routine training flight," the U.S. Air Force reported.

The Air Force said an air and sea search was launched for the YF12A SR71 — a spy plane described as more sophisticated than the U2.

The Air Force said the search was concentrated in the Pacific about 600 miles south of Okinawa and 500 miles east of Manila. The plane was based on Okinawa.

Marines Slain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Marine officers were fatally shot early today and a third officer and a woman companion were wounded at a diner in the Georgetown section of Washington.

Names of the victims were not immediately disclosed.

Police said murder charges were filed against Benjamin Murdock, 20, Los Angeles, and Gordon Alexander, 27, and Cornelius Frazier Jr., 23, both of San Jose.

Homidice Capt. Arthur L. Weber said the three told officers they came here to join in the Poor People's Campaign but had not made any contacts at Resurrection City.

Police said four Marines based at the Quantico, Va. base south of Washington were at the all-night diner with four women and an argument broke out with the three suspects, all Negroes. Police said a flurry of gunshots followed.

Expels Local

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Alameda County Labor Council of the AFL-CIO has expelled Local 169 of the movie projectionists' union because its members crossed janitors' union picket lines at Northern California theaters.

The expulsion was ordered by Labor Council officers last night after hearing the charges which Local 169's officers admitted were true.

Local 169 business manager Lee Smith said the local will appeal to AFL-CIO President George Meany to set aside the expulsion, a rare step seldom taken by unity-conscious labor councils.

Tower Reward

OAKLAND (UPI) — A $1,000 reward was offered today by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for the arrest and conviction of saboteurs who blew up three electrical transmission towers.

The steel towers, about 25 feet apart, were toppled high in the hills above Oakland in pre-dawn blasts yesterday. About 30,000 PG&E customers in Berkeley and Oakland were without electricity for more than 90 minutes. Some telephone service also was affected.

The sabotage was the sixth direct attack on installations of PG&E or Pacific Telephone Co. since Feb. 4. All but one of the raids occurred in Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Uneasy Calm Reigns After Fight Across Jordan River

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The heaviest Israeli attack across the Jordan River in two months ushered in the first anniversary today of the Arab-Israeli war. An uneasy calm reigned after the eight-hour fire fight yesterday.

"We hope this will teach Jordan the lesson once and for all that the shelling of settlements and army positions is taboo," said Maj. Gen. Haim Barlev, Israel's chief of staff.

Artillery exchanges across the Jordan River and an Israeli air strike on Jordanian positions left ripe wheatfields blazing on both sides of the river south of the Sea of Galilee.

Jordan reported nearly 100 Jordanian and 45 Israeli casualties. Israel admitted only three Israeli farm workers killed and six wounded.

Each side claimed the other began the fight.

Officials in Jordan said the Israeli's launched a "surprise attack," while Yosef Tekoah, Israel's ambassador to the United Nations, said it became "necessary to order Israeli aircraft into action in self-defense" after Jordanian artillery attacks on six collective farm settlements in the Beisan and Jordan valleys.

Jordan's ambassador to the United Nations, Muhammad H. El-Farra, said the Israeli attack set off raging forest fires around the Jordanian city of Irbid, focus of much of the battle.

New Labor Front?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Walter Reuther predicts the break between his United Auto Workers union and the AFL-CIO will "revitalize the entire labor movement."

He told a news conference yesterday the UAW faced a choice of whether it was "better to have a united labor movement that was paralyzed by stagnation and inaction or to have some division, with one section acting like it's alive."

Reuther said his union was the "live segment" of the labor movement because it is seeking to reconstructure the collective bargaining situation.

Hamilton Jet Is Used By Edward Kennedy

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of Robert F. Kennedy, shot last night in an assassination attempt, was flown to his brother's bedside from Hamilton Air Force Base at 1:50 a.m. today.

Senator Kennedy and three of his aides arrived at the base at 1:30 a.m. from San Francisco escorted by three California Highway Patrol cars.

He was immediately taken to the waiting airplane, an Air Force T-39 twin-engine jet. The plane was piloted by Col. Harry W. Shoup, 78th Fighter Wing commander at Hamilton, and Maj. Walter B. Spellman.

The jet left Hamilton immediately after Kennedy boarded it, and flew directly to Los Angeles International Airport in Inglewood where it landed at 3:05 a.m. The usual flight time for the jet is one hour and Hamilton officials speculated that the plane may have been delayed for 15 minutes in the Los Angeles Airport's holding pattern before landing.

Kennedy's plane was requested by Rep. Phillip Burton, D-San Francisco, who called Colonel Shoup directly, base officials reported.

The aides accompanying Kennedy were tentatively identified by Hamilton officials as D. Burke, P. Fitzgerald and W. Sigenalther.

Extra security police were assigned at the base this morning while Kennedy was there, Hamilton officials said.

Victory in California meant 172 Democratic National Convention votes for the winner, the richest harvest to be won in any of the presidential primaries.

H. P. Sullivan, deputy secretary of state, said the delegates sign an affidavit pledging support to the candidate but there is no legal requirement that they vote for him.

The Democratic primary was a contest between Kennedy, McCarthy and an uncommitted delegate slate mostly favorable to vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The latest vote total:

Dem President
McCarthy 1,138,108 — 42 pct.
Uncommitted 329,954 — 12 pct.
Kennedy 1,258,869 — 46 pct.

Running as an unopposed favorite son, Gov. Ronald Reagan won the Republican presidential primary and 86 GOP national convention votes.

Humphrey, who entered none of the primaries, still led in Democratic convention votes with 560 1-2. A candidate needs 1,312 to win the nomination.

Kennedy's victory in California enabled him to jump past McCarthy. With the 24 votes he won yesterday in the South Dakota primary, his total was 393 1-2.

(For stories on the South Dakota and other primary elections, see page 12.)

McCarthy had 238 delegate votes, plus about 20 he won in the New Jersey primary yesterday.

Just before he was shot, Kennedy campaigners were shouting "on to New York," his adopted state, which elected him to the Senate in 1964.

New York does not hold a primary directly on presidential candidates, but Democrats in that state will elect delegates with 123 convention votes at a primary June 18. Others with 65 votes will be chosen by the Democratic state committee.

Although candidates favoring Humphrey and McCarthy have entered the primary, Kennedy's campaign organization expected him to get 120 to 150 of the New York delegates.

McCarthy took an early lead in the California count but saw it shrink during the evening as a belated but heavy Kennedy vote came in from Los Angeles county, which casts nearly 40 per cent of the state's votes.

Kennedy appeared shortly after midnight before a cheering crowd of supporters for a victory statement in a ballroom of his Ambassador Hotel headquarters.

He pointed to his vote in California, "the most urban state", and in South Dakota, "the most rural state," as evidence that he could end divisions in the nation.

He also suggested that the American people could work together to bring an end to division and violence. A few minutes later, he was shot in a passageway leading from the ballroom.

An NBC analysis reported that Kennedy was polling about 70 per cent of the vote in low income areas, 75 per cent in Negro communities and more than 85 per cent in Mexican-American precincts. In middle-income areas, McCarthy was reported about five percentage points ahead of Kennedy.

In high income areas, Kennedy, McCarthy and the uncommitted delegate slate were reported running about even.

RAFFERTY

then governor and now Chief Justice of the United States, appointed Kuchel to the senate seat which Richard M. Nixon vacated when he was elected Vice President.

With 89 per cent of the statewide vote tabulated, Rafferty held a 49 per cent lead to Kuchel's 47 per cent of the total cast—929,156 to 893,504. On the Democrat ballot, with 81 per cent of precincts tallied, Cranston had 59 per cent or 1,311,748 votes; Beilenson 488,978 for 22 per cent, and Bennett 166,653 for 8 per cent.

Kuchel got 20,732 votes in Marin, or 64.5 per cent of the votes cast in the U.S. Senate race by Marin Republicans. Rafferty got 10,711 votes in Marin.

Marin votes for the three minor GOP candidates were: James A. Ware, 371; Phil Cammack, 188, and W. C. Jones, 137. All three withdrew Monday in favor of Rafferty.

Cranston got 15,908 votes in Marin, or 54.8 per cent. Other counts were: Beilenson, 6,132; Bennett, 4,471; Walter R. Buchanan, 1,893, and Charles Crail, 628.

VOTING

mer state controller Alan Cranston led the race in Marin for nomination for the U.S. Senate, with 15,908 votes. Other counts were: Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, 6,132; William M. Bennett, 4,471; Walter R. Buchanan, 1,893, and Charles Crail, 628.

On the Peace and Freedom Party ticket for U.S. Senator, Paul Jacobs, San Francisco writer, was unopposed. He got 461 votes in Marin.

Marinites voted to pass both state propositions, 34,971 to 26,707 for Proposition 1, a $200 million veterans bond act, and 34,692 to 26,300 for Proposition 2, a $65 million junior college construction bond act. Both required only simple majority votes to pass.

Sen. McCarthy won 16,558 votes from Marin Democrats, or 52.6 per cent. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy got 11,303 votes, or 35.9 per cent.

The "uncommitted" delegation headed by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch got only 3,599 votes in Marin, or 11.4 per cent.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, heading the only GOP slate as California's "favorite son," got 18,941 votes of the 33,235 GOP ballots cast in Marin, about 42 per cent leaving blank Reagan's slate on their ballots.

A total of 76.71 per cent of the county's 88,262 registered voters went to the polls. Of the GOP registration of 43,688, 71.6 per cent, voted. Of the 39,718 registered Democrats, 81.4 per cent voted.

Counting of the 67,706 ballots by a computer at the Civic Center was not completed until almost 4 a.m. About 95 per cent of the count was completed at 1:30 a.m., but it took several hours to re-punch some 600 incorrectly punched ballots.

Two years ago, it took two days to complete the count.

New Murder Trial Asked By Preston

Kenneth Allen Preston, 20-year-old Santa Rosa motorcyclist accused of double murder, asked today that his trial begin anew because of Monday's U.S. Supreme Court decision affecting death penalty cases.

Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson said he will reserve judgment on the motion for mistrial, coming in the fourth week of the youth's trial for his life, until he can read a transcript of the court's reversal of an Illinois death penalty case.

In that decision, the high court ruled unconstitutional the laws in any states, which provide for exclusion of persons opposing capital punishment from serving as jurors in death penalty cases.

Several persons were challenged for cause and excused by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales during the jury selection for Preston's trial. They were excused when they told the court they were so opposed to capital punishment and that they could not vote for it in any case.

Bales has said the court decision indicates this is proper procedure and is constitutional. The court's decision applies only in cases in which persons opposed to capital punishment are automatically excused, Bales said.

The trial was to go before the jury of eight women and four men again this afternoon. This morning, Judge Wilson excluded the jury from the courtroom while he considered the admissability of a statement made by Preston after his arrest Jan. 14.

Sonoman Pleads Guilty To Having Concealed Gun

Guilty plea to an amended complaint charging the brandishing of a pistol in a rude and threatening manner was entered in Marin Municipal Court today by Count Woodrow Vier, 54.

Vier, of Santa Rosa, also pleaded guilty to two other misdemeanor counts, illegally carrying a concealed weapon and petty theft. Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled judgment on the three counts for 9:30 a.m. July 2.

Vier originally was accused of felony assault with a deadly weapon, and with carrying a concealed weapon. San Rafael police arrested him May 11 after a San Francisco mechanic, James Pitts, 36, suffered a flesh wound from a gun during a scuffle with Vier over possession of a vehicle jack at D and S Garage, 718 Fourth Street, San Safael.

Storer, an attorney, was elected to the board in 1964 when he unseated incumbent George H. Ludy, and served as chairman of the board last year.

Baar, a San Rafael real estate broker making his first bid for county office after serving on the San Rafael City Council for 11 years, was considered Storer's stiffest opponent.

The rambling Fourth District, realigned to provide equal voter representation, extends from West Marin across the county and into downtown San Rafael.

Storer was the Democratic nominee for Congress in the First District two years ago, but lost to Republican Rep. Don H. Clausen.

Several times during the evening, Storer's vote topped the required majority, but when the final count was in, he fell short.

DEATH WEAPON

Marinite Once Owned Revolver

The revolver with which Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot in Los Angeles today formerly belonged to Mrs. Robert F. Dana Westlake, now a resident of Woodacre.

She gave it away, before moving to Marin, to George Charles Erhard, 18, of Pasadena, she told sheriff's officers today.

Erhard refused to say whether he had given the gun away again. Philip Fradkin, former Independent-Journal reporter now on the staff of the Los Angeles Times, said he talked with Erhard by telephone today and the youth responded to all questions with, "I have no comment at this time."

The .22 caliber weapon was traced to Mrs. Westlake through its registration when it was sold to her father, Albert L. Hurt, in Southern California at about the time of the Watts riots.

Mrs. Westlake told Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Deputy Kenneth Irving that her mother later gave her the revolver, but she did not want it around the house because of her two small children, so she gave it last fall to her neighbor in Pasadena, Erhard.

She said Erhard was a gun collector, and described him as "a nice, quiet young man from a good family who have been longtime family friends," reported Deputy Sheriff W. R. Keaton.

metologists, and supported by the Wallace party," said Bagley. "The voters have rejected this off-beat, far out brand of so-called republicanism, and I am proud of them," he said.

The Seventh Assembly District includes all of Marin and the southern portion of Sonoma County. The vote in each county was: Bagley, 22,978 in Marin, and 7,974 in Sonoma; Barham, 8,265 in Marin, and 3,774 in Sonoma; and Bionda, 91 in Marin, and 88 in Sonoma.

Barham, who moved to Marin last August, had campaigned on a platform that stressed Bagley was "a better Democrat than a Republican."

Anderson Comeback Gains In Primary

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All incumbent congressmen challenged in yesterday's primary won renomination, and former Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson took the first step in a political comeback by capturing a House nomination.

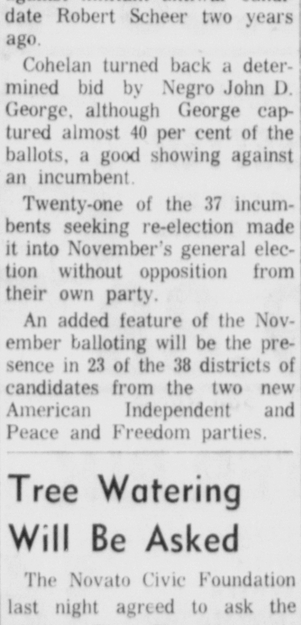
Anderson, the state's No. 2 official during the Democratic Brown administration from 1959-1966 before losing in the Republican sweep two years ago, competed with seven other hopefuls for the party's nomination in the 17th Congressional District.

He beat Los Angeles City Councilman John S. Gibson Jr., his nearest rival, by about 6,000 votes.

The office is the only U.S. House of Representatives seat being vacated voluntarily in California this year, with the retirement of 26-year Democratic Rep. Cecil King.

Anderson will be favored in November because the district has a 63 per cent Democratic registration edge.

Republican Rep. Pete McCloskky, who beat former child actress Shirley Temple Black in a special election in San Mateo County's 11th District last year, narrowly won nomination for his first full term. He turned back the bid of Robert Barry, a New York congressman unseated in 1964 who moved to California and ran unsuccessfully in the 38th District in 1966.



GLENN M. ANDERSON
On comback trail?

With all precincts in, McCloskky had 33,937 votes to 30,585 for the persistent Barry.

In the Berkeley-area 7th District, Democratic Rep. Jeffery Cohelan had an easier time winning renomination than he did against militant antiwar candidate Robert Scheer two years ago.

Cohelan turned back a determined bid by Negro John D. George, although George captured almost 40 per cent of the ballots, a good showing against an incumbent.

An added feature of the November balloting will be the presence in 23 of the 38 districts of candidates from the two new American Independent and Peace and Freedom parties.

Office Looted Of $200 Cash

It was taken from a desk drawer in the office of A. J. Shooter Inc. of Marin, 77 Larkspur Street, San Rafael, by a thief who broke a sliding glass window.

Employees said the burglar also rifled other desks and filing cabinets.

Reagan Offers Aid In Shooting Probe

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan pledged today he will cake whatever assistance available that is needed in investigating the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A Reagan spokesman said the governor had not yet ordered any state agency into the case, but will leave it up to Los Angeles police authorities to ask for help.

Tree Watering Will Be Asked

The Novato Civic Foundation last night agreed to ask the Novato Fire Department to water young trees at Stafford Lake, Peter Ferrarese, foundation treasurer, reported.

The trees were planted by the foundation last fall, he said. The members also agered to hire Boy Scouts to weed areas around the trees, he said.

ELECTION TROUBLES

Electronic Counting Fails To Speed Tally

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The electronic age of vote counting ran into difficulty yesterday that slowed primary returns in two populous California counties to a turtle's pace.

Returns from Los Angeles and Fresno Counties, both of which use computers to count ballots, lagged considerably behind the rest of the state.

In Fresno County, a computer that was programmed wrong failed to tabulate. As a result, more than a third of the county's ballots piles up uncounted at the tabulating center.

In Los Angeles County, which contains 37 per cent of the state's registered voters, an electronic voting system was used for the first time, replacing the old method of hand counted ballots.

But instead of speeding up tabulation of returns as expected, results were slower coming in than in the old fashioned hand counted method.

The county registrar of voters office blamed the delay on getting the ballots from the precincts to the computer center for processing.

Brunette Wigs

DENVER (AP) — Maybe gentlemen prefer blondes, but you can't prove it by Thelma Duncan. Miss Duncan, a salesgirl at a wig shop, says brunette wigs sell just as well as blonde hairpieces.

Fresno Man Leaps To Death

A man who jumped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday has been identified as Robert C. McCloskey, 33, of Fresno by the San Francisco coroner's office.

A bridge painter notified the bridge office, a few minutes before 3 p.m., that he saw a body floating in the water. It was recovered by the Coast Guard.

No note was found. Apparently nobody saw him jump and no parked car was found registered to McCloskey, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The coroner's office said he is survived by a sister, Helen Ellis, an ex-wife, Ann McCloskey and children, all in Santa Cruz.

Legislature May Revise Primary Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State legislators returned to the capitol today fresh from the California primary and faced a move to adopt the Oregon-style "all-star" presidential nominating system.

Both houses of the legislature which recessed Thursday for the primary, reconvened at mid-afternoon.

Most major issues of the current session remained unresolved, and chief among those in the Assembly was Gov. Ronald Reagan's record $5.7 billion state budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

In the upper house, Senators prepared to debate a measure by Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, that could make the California presidential primary the nation's most important pre-convention political test.

The measure would place the name of every "nationally recognized" presidential candidate on the California ballot starting in 1972. Similar legislation was defeated last year by a solid bloc of Republican opposition.

For one thing, the bill would prohibit favorite son candidates such as Gov. Ronald Reagan from staving off a challenge from other primary contenders.

Rumford Defeated In Attempt To Regain Old Assembly Seat

A surprise contest developed when young Henry A. Waxman, former president of the California Federation of Young Democrats, apparently defeated 26-year veteran Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan for the Democratic nomination in a Los Angeles district.

Sen. George Danielson, D-Los Angeles, was locked in a see-saw race with Richard Calderon in his bid for renomination. Danielson, a lawyer, was elected to the Assembly in 1962 and the Senate in 1966.

It was clearly an incumbent's primary, however. Only 22 of the 77 assemblymen seeking re-election faced opposition within their own party. All 80 Assembly seats will be at stake in the November general election.

Twenty Senate seats are up this year. Nineteen incumbents were nominated easily, 17 of them without primary opposition.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, at the side of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy when the presidential candidate was shot, easily defeated two Democratic challengers for the Democratic nomination in Inglewood.

The primary ballot for the first time also included candidates from the Peace and Freedom Party and Gov. George Wallace's American Independent Party. Mario Savio won the Peace and Freedom nomination for Alameda County's 11th Senate District.

Miller was elected in 1966 when Rumford gave up the Assembly seat to make an unsuccessful bid for the state Senate. Both are Negroes.

Waxman, a 28-year-old lawyer, was president of the Young Democrats in 1965. The primary campaign was his first try for elective office.

McMillan, 69, was first elected to the lower house in 1942. A lawyer, he served as chairman of the Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee and repeatedly carried legislation to repeal the death penalty.

The AIP fielded 10 candidates in Senate districts and the Peace and Freedom Party was represented in 7 districts.

Three assemblymen, Charles W. Meyers, D-San Francisco; Edward E. Elliott, D-Los Angeles, and Stewart Hinckley, R-Redlands, did not seek renomination.

Rock Warning

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An electrified fence of heavy steel mesh is strung along much of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad trackage in western Colorado. A rock slide heavy enough to bulge the fence pulls a plus and causes a red light to flash in block signals as a warning to engineers.

Barbecue Funds Set For Tables

Marinwood Volunteer Firemen's Association netted $167 from the annual barbecue held at the firehouse last month, Rinaldo Amini, treasurer reported last night at a meeting of the volunteer firemen.

Vice President Irving Schwartz, who presided last night, said the proceeds will be used to build picnic tables in the barbecue area of the Marinwood Community Center.

Howard Council, chairman of the annual Fourth of July pancake breakfast, announced that plans are nearly complete for this year's event. About 600 attended last year.

Feathered Aussie Has Cool Trick

SYDNEY (AP) — Luv, a pet sulphur-crested cockatoo, knows how to keep cool in the Australian summer. The bird presses the valve of auto tires, cools off in the escaping air.

Luv's owner, Jim Walker, said: "The bird has let my tires down three days in a row.

"The first day I thought I had two flat tires, but the garage said they couldn't find anything wrong. The next day I thought hooligans must be letting the tires down because I had three flats.

"The third day I heard air hissing and went round quietly and caught him at it. The bird was sitting there with his beak on the valve and the air whistling round him. He was flapping his wings in the breeze and was as happy as Larry."

A Mare Weeps?

SILT, Colo. (AP) — Ever hear of a horse weeping? Mrs. Herbert Richards insisted it happened after her mare's colt got its head caught in a steel drum sunk in a field. As she tended to the hungry colt, Mrs. Richards said she noticed big tears rolling from the mare's eyes.

It's the word under "Wolfschmidt."

MARIN COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL
1968 Summer Program

Marin Country Day School's Summer Program provides enriched activities for three groups of children. The Adventure Group for children currently in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades; the A Group for children currently in the 4th and 5th grades; and the B Group for children now in the 6th and 7th grades. Our program includes experiences in anthropology, English, social studies, art, music, nature studies, handicrafts, carpentry, and physical recreation. Overnights, swimming, hiking, excursions, and movies are a regular part of these exciting six weeks.

A unique part of the program is the opportunity for students to participate in the archeological exploration and surveying of an Indian mound in Sonoma County. The children in A and B Groups each spend two days and one night per week camping at the Sonoma site, with experienced counselors. The Adventure Group joins the "dig" site several times and a portion of their activities centers around this project. An important new addition this year is material especially developed for the Program by Natural Science Education Resources. This material centers around the ecology of the Sonoma site. The N.S.E.R. conducts a variety of programs for children and adults at the University of California, S. F. State, Sonoma State and the National Audubon Society.

The program will also include an innovative approach to the development of creative awareness—by progressive observation in creative writing, drama and various plastic arts.

The 1968 Summer Program will continue and expand its testing and use of new developments in social studies programs and will give particular attention this summer to the recently completed "Inland Valley Elementary School Archaeology Project." The various projects provide a meaningful context for English, art and social studies experiences.

The Program begins Monday, June 24 and ends Friday, Aug. 2. Scheduled campus activities are from 9 to 3 daily. Parents provide lunches and transportation and the school furnishes daily milk. The fee for the Adventure Group for the six weeks is $175. The fee for A and B Groups, including transportation and food on the expedition is $200. Weekly rates are pro-rated and are available upon request. Transportation car pools will be coordinated by the Program office if desired.

An optional four-day camping trip to Lake Leonard in the Mendocino Coast Range will be provided for the A and B Groups July 15-July 18. It is one of the most beautiful spots in Northern California. The cost is $20 and is open to regularly enrolled members of the Summer Program only.

Review and remedial work in reading, phonics, and math may be arranged for at extra cost through the program. Similar arrangements for tutoring in French are also available.

Arson Suspected In School Fire

A passerby spotted the small fires at 8:36 p.m. and called Tamalpais firemen. They found three "plants" at the school consisting of glue and plastic toys, two stuck in door vents and the third in a vent to the underside of the building.

Paint was blistered slightly on the two doors. Fire Chief Richard Oswald said the arson was obviously the work of children. Investigations was continuing today.

Director John Hodge was named treasurer to succeed Wayne Heldt, who announced his resignation because he is moving out of the community next month.

The directors agreed that from next year, the president's annual message and report to the community will be made in January instead of in mid-year, which has been the practice in the past.

School Employees Win Dental Insurance Plan

San Rafael city schools employees last night won a substantial increase in 1968-69 health benefits, although the package still fell far short of what had been sought.

By a 4-0 vote, the San Rafael Board of Education approved benefits totaling $168,605, up $96,640 from the current package. Included in the new program, besides increased medical and hospital coverage, is a coveted dental insurance plan.

Supt. John F. Plank said the new health package would add about four cents to the elementary school district tax rate and about two and a half cents to the high school rate. The elementary rate this year is $3.075; the high school rate, $2.14 per $100 assessed valuation.

The San Rafael Teachers Association had requested a health plan totaling $287,400. Plank had recommended one which would cost $213,894. Both would have included coverage for dependents.

But the board, stressing the need for economy in the face of increased federal and state levies on taxpayers, chose a program which excluded dependents from coverage. But it did include funds to help defray the employees' contributions toward rising premiums.

By approving a dental insurance plan through the California Dental Society, the board joined the Tamalpais, Mill Valley and Dixie School districts and the county schools office as the only school agencies providing such coverage. The Tamalpais and Mill Valley districts extend the plan to dependents.

The 4-0 vote, with board member John C. Pfeiffer absent, came after member Herman L. Childress made a detailed presentation on the merits and disadvantages of the plan.

Employee representatives in the audience had earlier coolly endorsed Plank's health package proposal and made no objections when the cheaper program was passed.

Also last night, the board adopted a new pay and classification program for non-teaching personnel, having previously approved pay raises for administrative employees and teachers.

The program for non-teachers includes a change from a six-step salary schedule to a five-step scheme and which provides 5 per cent step advancements within each range and a two and a half per cent differential between ranges.

The plan was compiled by the state Personnel Board. Included in the plan is Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte, whose salary range will go from $988 to $1,234 a month to $1,184 to $1,440 over the next two years.

The personnel board found Condrotte's present salary range considerably lower than for business managers in several school districts in Northern California of similar size.

Miss Judy M. Martin, a second grade teacher at John MacPhail School in Santa Venetia, reported to the board that faculty members considered the experimental parent-teacher conference project a success. Instead of sending home report cards during two marking periods this school year, parents of children in grades two through five were called in for discussions on their child's progress.

Miss Martin said that 89 per cent of the parents responded to a recent questionnaire on the success of the program and 87 per cent of these said they believed they were learning more about their child's progress in school through the discussions.

The board indicated a willingness to expand the program to other schools in the system.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

RECREATION—Revived suggestions to enter the summer recreation business after Andrew J. Snyder Jr., city parks and recreation director, submitted the city's summer program, to which the board will contribute $24,492 for the coming fiscal year, down about $500. Chairman Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said the board should see whether the school system might not be able to operate a more streamlined program and asked Plank for a report by the end of the year.

ARCHITECTS — Hired architects Marshall and Bowles for an estimated $70,000 to plan improvements, including construction of four new classrooms, at Short School and to plan the new Glenwood Middle School.

MEETING—Set the next meeting for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building, Third and E streets.

Search Dropped For Lost Angler

The Coast Guard today suspended its search for Charles S. Masterson of Belmont, a 54-year-old Lockheed missile division supervisor, whose rented fishing skiff was found on the Marin side of the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday night.

The effort was given up after an aerial search by helicopter failed to turn up any "significant sighting" yesterday.

The aerial search extended from a point near Redwood City to eight miles outside the Golden Gate, the Coast Guard said.

Teen Booked As Drug Suspect

George M. Beyer, an unemployed 19-year-old from San Francisco, was booked at the county jail yesterday by the California Highway Patrol on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Officer Arthur D. Jaggie reported he stopped a pickup truck on northbound Highway 101, south of the Richardson Bay Bridge about 8:35 p.m., because the truck had stopped on a freeway to let out a passenger.

Jaggie said he found a small cylinder containing what appeared to be marijuana in the truck and cigarette papers in Beyer's pocket.

Beyer was being held in lieu of $625 bail and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Union Is Backing Closings On Sunday

HONOLULU (AP)—The legislative program of the Hawaii local of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union calls for a Sunday closing for retail stores.

Eddie DeMello, the union's legislative representative, said the union is approaching the issue from the viewpoint of the worker, and is not supporting large retailers who want stores closed on Sundays.

He Has Grudge At Stop Signs

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Police said they can only assume the driver of an auto was disgusted with stop signs. The sign at the intersection of Cloud and Broadway was found beaten to the ground recently.

A witness told officers a car stopped at the intersection. The driver backed up and methodically rammed his car into the stop sign until it was flattened.

The witness said the driver then turned his slightly dented vehicle back into the street and sped off.

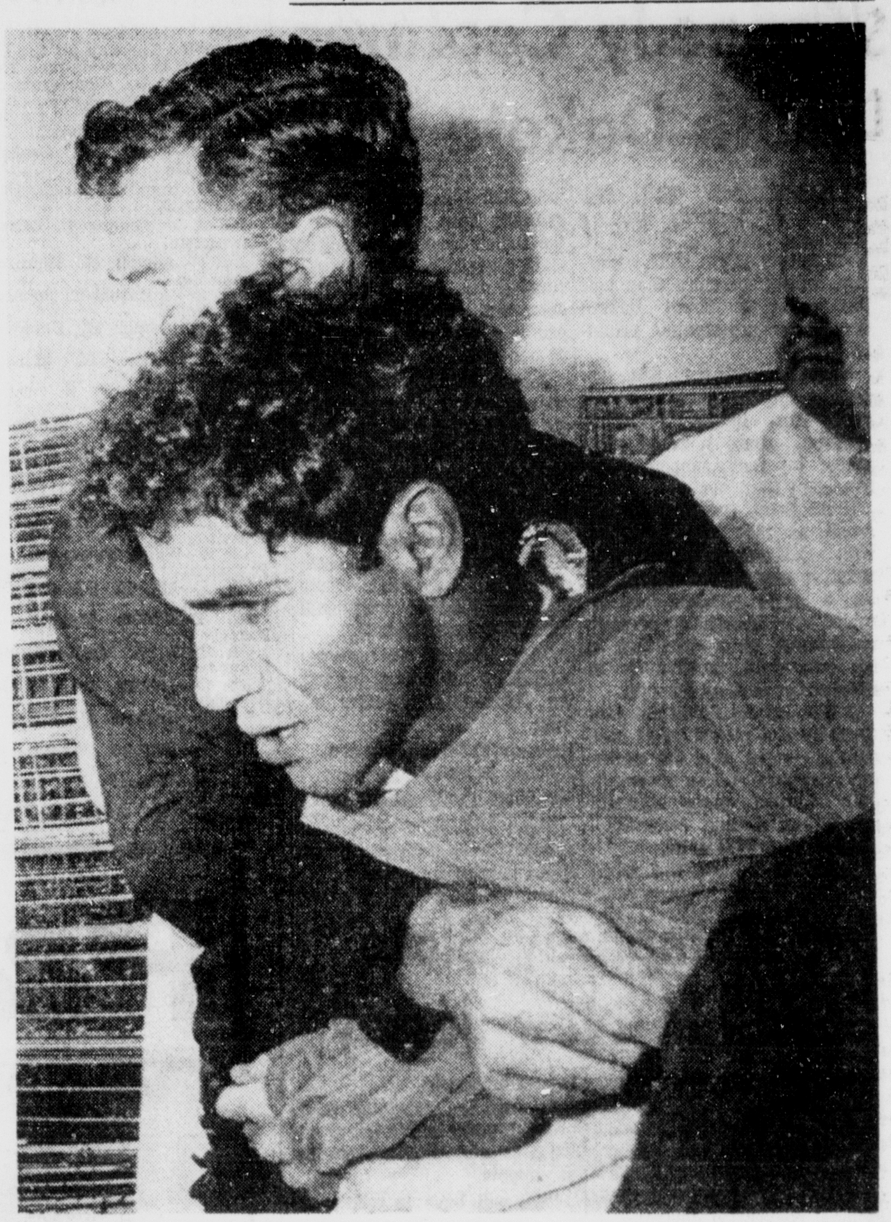
JUST AFTER BEING FELLED—Sen. Robert Kennedy, clutching rosary beads, lies wounded on the floor of the Ambassador Hotel's Embassy Room in Los Angeles just after being shot by an assailant. Kennedy's wife, Ethel, is at lower left. Five others were also wounded by the suspect about 12:20 a.m. today. (UPI Telephotos and AP Wirephoto)



SUSPECT SEIZED—A sweat-shirted suspect, later identified as Sirhan Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian born in Jerusalem, is taken from the Ambassador Hotel following the shooting of Kennedy and several other persons attending a celebration for the presidential aspirant.

Shot, Kennedy Fights For Life

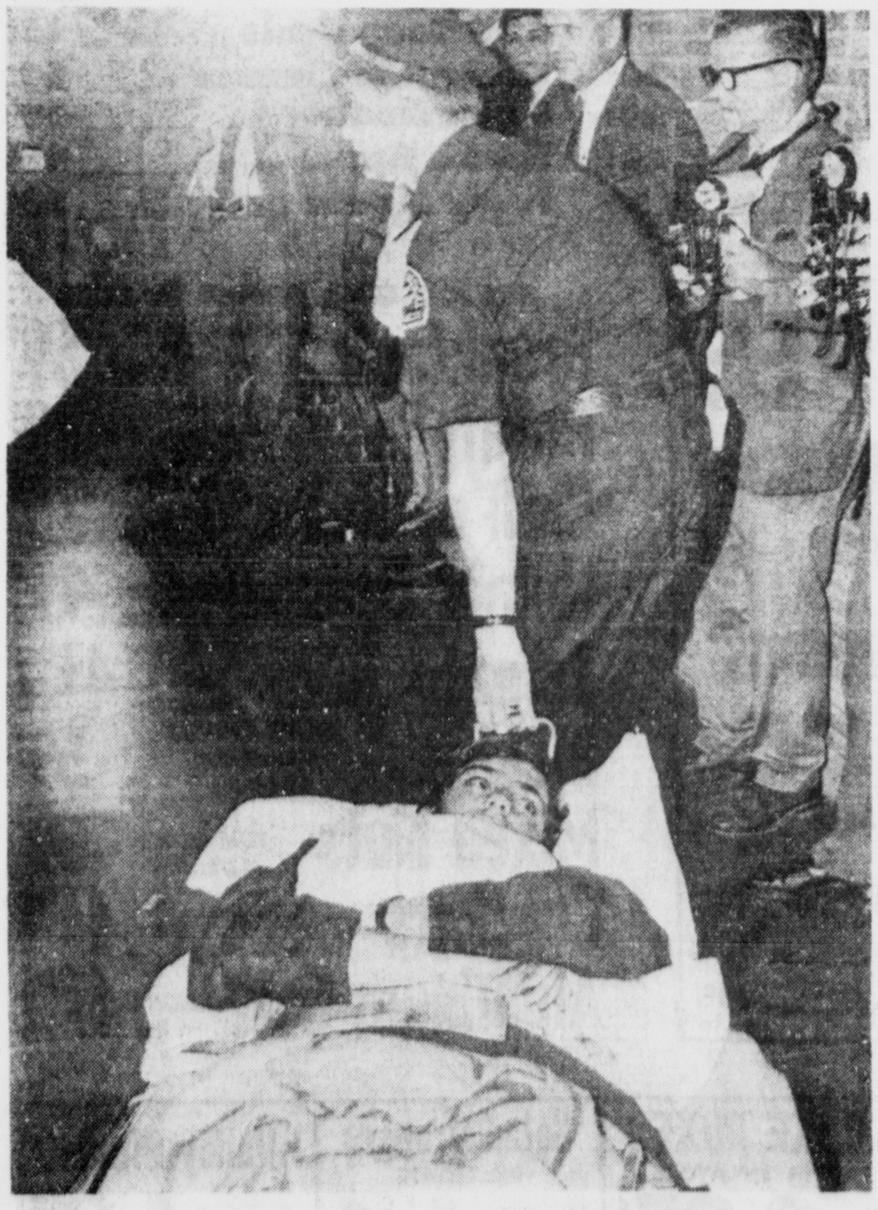
ALSO SHOT AT HOTEL — An unidentified woman is wheeled out of the Ambassador Hotel shortly after being shot at the time an assailant's gun slumped Kennedy to the floor with critical head wounds.



ALSO HIT BY GUNMAN—Another of the shooting victims at Kennedy's primary election celebration is wheeled into Central Receiving Hospital in Los Angeles for treatment.

Yorty said four $100 bills were found on Sirhan, "with which he was planning on leaving if he could get away." He said Sirhan also carried a Pasadena newspaper clipping, unfavorable toward Kennedy.

Slender and dark-haired, the young man accused of shooting Kennedy would tell police nothing about himself or his deed.

Prior to his identification, he was secretly arraigned as John Doe, on six counts of assault with intent to commit murder, and was held in $250,000 bail.

Five others also had been wounded.

His act, at shortly after midnight, PDT, turned from triumph to terror the scene at the ornate hotel on Wilshire Boulevard, where Kennedy had just thanked his cheering supporters for their part in the biggest victory of his White House campaign: his capture of the California presidential primary.

And in that speech, Kennedy called upon those who favor his nomination to help him overcome "divisions, violence, disenchantment" in America.

Then he turned, taking a short cut through a kitchen passageway, to go to a news conference —and met the violence he had condemned.

The assailant, apparently standing on a box or a can for better vantage, swiftly pumped all eight shots of his revolver at Kennedy.

None of the other wounded was hurt as critically as the senator.

Those who were in the corridor had differing accounts of the gunman's words.

Some said he cried as he shot: "I can explain. Let me explain."

Others told of hearing him shout: "I did it for my country."

Kennedy was hit three times, near the right ear, in the shoulder and the forehead.

It was the slug that hit near his ear which plunged into Kennedy's brain.

Kennedy was first taken to Los Angeles Central Receiving Hospital. The doctor who treated him there, Victor Baz, said the senator "was practically dead" when he arrived.

He was transferred to Good Samaritan Hospital and there, the team of six surgeons began operating at 3:12 a.m., PDT.

When their work was done, he was pronounced in "extremely critical condition."

All but a fragment of the bullet was removed from his brain, Mankiewicz said. The surgery was said to have been successful in that its primary goal, removal of most of the slug, was accomplished.

Mankiewicz said a second bullet, considered to have inflicted less serious injury, remained in the back of Kennedy's neck.

He said vital signs such as pulse and breathing were in good order, but there "may have been some impairment of the blood supply to the center of the brain."

Mankiewicz said that center controls the pulse, blood pressure and tracking of the eyes, but not the process of thinking.

The scene of turmoil, tears and hysteria which followed the shooting was televised live by cameras which had just carried Kennedy's victory talk on the California race.

The shock of the shooting quickly turned the roomful of some 2,000 election night celebrators into a scene of chaos.

With startling speed, the gunman fired all the eight shots in his pistol, hitting Kennedy and bystanders.

The shots brought pandemonium. There were shrieks of "God, God, not again." There were curses, too.

A doctor administered emergency treatment. A priest said he held a rosary toward Kennedy and the senator clutched it, but the crush of people came between them.

Baz said Kennedy at first had no pulsebeat. The doctor said he administered a closed cardiac massage, gave Kennedy oxygen and adrenalin, and slipped a tube into his mouth to facilitate breathing, when he was taken to Central Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Kennedy was with her husband.

"She didn't believe that he was alive, sort of because she could see that he wasn't responding," the doctor said. "So when we began to get a heartbeat, I put the stethoscope in her ears so she could listen."

At the ornate Ambassador Hotel, the gunman was in police hands.

It fell free.

"Kill him," a man shouted.

Police took over, hustled the assailant at gunpoint through the lobby of the rambling old hotel. "Lynch him, lynch him," shouted people in the crowd.

But police rushed the man past the entrance to the Coconut Grove night club, down the stairs and off to the Central Jail.

The suspect was sullen and silent through the early hours of police questioning. "He would not speak except once he said 'yes,'" said Police Chief Thomas Reddin.

Later he began to talk, but not about himself or the shooting.

Reddin said he was "very cool, very calm, very stable and quite lucid."

Whenever the questioning came to the shooting, Reddin said, the man would reply only:

Speedier House Action Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy touched off demands today that Congress give swift final approval to an anticrime bill that contains a federal gun control provision.

Plans were announced for a parliamentary move in the House that could push the legislation to final passage and to the White House by tomorrow. This coud be done if the House votes to accept the Senate-passed measure without change.

Shock And Prayers Follow Shooting

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Johnson led a shocked nation today in praying for the recovery of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Horrified lawmakers voiced fear "the world's gone mad."

Johnson, who succeeded to the office of President Nov. 22, 1963, when John F. Kennedy was slain before his eyes in Dallas, said "there are no words equal to the horror" of the tragic shooting of the late president's brother.

"All America prays for his recovery," Johnson said. "We also pray that divisiveness and violence be driven from the hearts of men everywhere."

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., who was consoled by the Kennedys when her own husband was assassinated by a sniper two months ago, wired Mrs. Kennedy: "I am praying for your husband, who I so much respect, and I am praying for our country in this period of great national tragedy and peril."

Republican and Democratic presidential candidates, shocked and sorrowed by the shooting, immediately canceled all campaigning.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said: "We the people must look deep into our hearts and ask what we are. We will weather this. But we must restore reason and order to our lives."

"God help us," said a GI in Vietnam. "What the hell is going on back there?"

"I feel just like the last time," said another, referring to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Radio Hanoi reported the shooting of Senator Kennedy to North Vietnamese today and commented: "This is to show the dirty face and tactics of U.S. politicians who will not hesitate to spill blood in order to even the score."

News of the shooting caused "acute sorrow" at the Vatican, the chief press official there said. He said Pope Paul VI was being kept informed constantly of the condition of the senator, who is a Roman Catholic.

"It's a nightmare—it's terrible," said a Russian woman on a Moscow street.

"It is a great pity that you live in such a country where any person can be shot," a Russian man told an American in the Soviet capital.

"Unbelievable," said a Belgian government official in Brussels. "American political ways are frightening."

"It is an unspeakable tragedy that America is so permeated with violence that they will attempt to remove those who serve in this wholly patriotic manner," Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, said.

"There is no family in our generation that's done more for America than the Kennedys," the Texan added.

"It seems to me," said Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., "that our society is going crazy."

House Speaker John W. McCormack could only moan with grief when first told of the news.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed "fear for my country's future if we do not regain our stability.

"The terror and horror numbs and I'm just praying for Bob's recovery," Mansfield said.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen called the shooting "a disaster of national importance." He added it "all the more strengthens the need for strict law enforcement."

Kennedy Captures South Dakota Vote

PIERRE, S.D. (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won a smashing victory in Hubert H. Humphrey's native state yesterday, rolling up more than half the votes in South Dakota democratic presidential primary.

Kennedy smothered Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who ran a poor third behind President Johnson, whose nominal delegates in fact support Vice President Humphrey.

If the South Dakota returns—small as they are compared with California's—prove anything, it may be that Humphrey has a bigger problem than he might have thought in presenting himself as a candidate in his own right, particularly in rural states such as this one.

It was almost incidental that Kennedy also picked up 24 sure delegate votes, plus the probable allegiance of the automatically elected party national committeeman and committeewoman for a total of 26.

The New Yorker had more than half the total Democratic primary vote with almost all the ballots counted. A delegate slate pledged to Humphrey but running on the ballot under Johnson's name had about 30 per cent. McCarthy trailed with 20 per cent.

South Dakota's other big winner tended to be overlooked. He was Richard M. Nixon, the Republican former vice president, who put 14 more delegate votes in his pocket running unopposed in South Dakota. Nixon was also out-polling the total vote for Democratic presidential aspirants—routine in farm-minded, traditionally republican South Dakota.

With 1,549 of the precincts counted, 97 per cent of the total, the Democratic primary vote was:

Kennedy 31,601—50 per cent
Johnson 19,106—30 per cent
McCarthy 13,005—20 per cent

Pro-Humphrey Slate Leads In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Gov. Richard Hughes, a favorite son candidate who reportedly leans toward Vice President Hubert Humphrey, won a large majority of the state's 80 Democratic national convention delegates in yesterday's New Jersey primary.

Slates of delegates for Hughes garnered some 60 seats. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy got 17 delegates, and three others were undecided.

The long primary ballot, containing more than 100 names in some places, made tabulation difficult.

In some counties there was no counting at all. In others, only a sampling. It may take days or even weeks before the final tallies are determined.

A staunch supporter of President Johnson, Hughes is believed to favor Humphrey for the nomination. But he insisted following yesterday's primary that the organization delegates would remain uncommitted—at least temporarily.

He said the delegates would probably meet within two weeks for a possible decision on who to support.

"We will have to talk to all the candidates—the ones who are left," he said. "We want to see what their programs are."

McCarthy, in California, said he was "particularly appreciative of the results" of New Jersey's primary "in that all of my time and attention has been devoted to Oregon and California.

A spokesman for the New Jersey Nixon Now Committee, which launched an 11th hour radio and newspaper write-in campaign, said Nixon's showing against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California was "phenomenal."

McCarthy outdistanced Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Humphrey in the Democratic write-in contest.

Voters in both parties went down the line without exception for organization-backed candidates for Congress in yesterday's primary election.

Demos Battle To Wire In Montana Governor Race

HELENA, Mont. (UPI)—Tim Babcock won renomination as the Republican candidate for governor in yesterday's primary, then sat back to watch the neck-and-neck race between Eugene Mahoney and Forrest Anderson for the Democratican nomination.

Anderson, the attorney general, and Mahoney, majority leader of the state senate, were locked in a nip-and-tuck battle for the right to face Babcock in November.

With 62 per cent of the state's 1,037 precincts counted, Anderson had 40 per cent, Mahoney 39 per cent of the votes.

Rep. Arnold Olsen, First Congressional District incumbent, defeated Harriet Miller, state superintendent of public instruction, who had sought to become Montana's first congresswoman since Jeanette Rankin set a national precedent during World War I.

Olsen squares off in November against Dick Smiley, a radio station owner from Bozeman whom he narrowly defeated in the 1966 general election. Smiley yesterday overwhelmed Wayne Montgomery, whom Olsen had defeated twice, in 1962 and 1964.

In Montant's Second District, Billings lawyer Robert Kelleher won the Democratic nomination handily and will face incumbent James Battin, unopposed for renomination, in the general election.

Driver Suffers Head Injuries

A Santa Venetia man was injured yesterday when his car skidded off northbound Highway 101, south of the Corte Madera overpass, and went through a chain-link fence at 11:15 a.m.

Richard Hatcher, 25, of 818 Vendola Drive, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael, where he was under observation for head and neck injuries.

Sonoman Fair From Accident

Mary J. Moody, 47, of Santa Rosa, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after suffering facial lacerations when her auto struck a parked car on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael last night.

Police said she was southbound on Lincoln after leaving Highway 101 at about 9 p.m. when her auto veered and struck a parked car in front of 1825 Lincoln, pushing it into a second parked car.

There was major damage to Mrs. Moody's car and a parked car owned by Robert Martinez of Petaluma, police said, and minor damage to a parked car owned by H. C. Ellis of Stinson Beach.

Wallace Strategy Is Timed For November

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Four years ago George Wallace racked up 30 per cent of the vote or better in Democratic primaries for president in Indiana, Wisconsin and Maryland.

The heavy balloting for the then governor of Alabama, known principally as a foe of racial integration, was widely interpreted as a white backlash vote.

But this year the name of Wallace has attracted little attention in the primaries, and he has looked to his critics like a fading candidate.

Not so, says Bill Jones, coordinator of Wallace's campaign. He says the primary outcome was anticipated and was due to the grand strategy of the campaign.

The reason: Wallace decided this time to run as a third-party candidate and to stay out of Democratic primaries. So his efforts had been toward getting on the ballot in November, not on the primaries.

"Primaries are designed to get convention votes," said Jones. "We're not interested in the conventions. We're running in November."

Starting tomorrow, Wallace will resume the public campaign he dropped for a month because of his wife's death from cancer. He will swing through a three-day speaking tour in Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Maryland.

Few political analysts rate him better than a potential spoiler who in a close race could keep either of the major candidates from getting the required majority of electoral votes, thus throwing the election into the House of Representatives for a decision.

Sixty per cent of the population of Greece is supported by farming although only one-fourth of the country is suitable for agriculture.

Hub Trustees Study $1.8 Million Outlay

A preliminary budget of $1,825,350 for 1968-69 was discussed last night by the San Anselmo School trustees.

Although the proposed budget is higher than the current year's budget of $1,632,670, District Supt. Stephen L. Parodi predicted that the district's tax rate may drop from the current $3.41 per $100 assessed valuation figure by a few cents.

The $3.41 includes payment on bonds and repayment of state loans as well as operating costs and the loan repayment be down next year, he said.

Additions to the operating budget for next year include a reading instruction specialist program, hiring a teacher for the educationally handicapped and an increased speech correction program, Parodi said.

The board will discuss the budget again at a meeting at 7:30 p.m., June 18.

The board also made an attempt to resolve the long-standing dispute between the district, Sunny Hills and the Cypress Abbey Cemetery over a roadway easement through property the district bought from Sunny Hills. The board decided to ask the county counsel to offer Sunny Hills about $7,500 in exchange for allowing the road through its property.

The San Anselmo School District board last night also:

SABBATICAL — Postponed action on a proposed change in the district's sabbatical leave policy which would reduce the number of teachers who could take leaves during one year.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Hired 20 teachers at $500 each to teach summer school.

READING — Heard a report on reading tests from Rulon Cook.

WORK EXPERIENCE — Heard a description of the work experience program for 30 Sir Francis Drake High School students who have been assisting district teachers.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE — Postponed decision on student accident insurance until more information is available.

Check Confirms It Is Marijuana

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Some city court workers were suspicious when they saw a "funny-looking" plant growing out from behind a small potted tree by the door in their building.

Larkspur Library Member To Resign

Mrs. Robert Bowen, who has been a member of the Larkspur Library board for 12 years, told the board yesterday that she does not want to be reappointed when her term is up July 1.

Mrs. Helen S. Wilson, librarian, said the board will recommend a person from a list under consideration for the vacancy. The Larkspur City Council makes appointments to the library board.

No Action By Trustees On Budget

The Fairfax School board last night took no action on a preliminary budget of $869,000 for fiscal 1968-69, but Supt. H. Reginald Hammond today predicted adoption, with some trimming, at the board's next meeting, June 18 at 7:45 p.m. at the district office.

The 20 per cent increase over this year's budget of $694,000 will "hopefully not" affect the present tax rate of $3.035 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Hammond.

Trustees took action on other matters, however. They agreed to add a bus to provide transportation for students living near the top of Bolinas Road at a cost of $7000, with the state paying $5000.

They also authorized application for state funds to hire two primary grade reading specialists for the fall. Net increase to the district will be negligible, Hammond said.

The Fairfax School District board also:

FEDERAL FUNDS — Approved application for $23,000 under Title I, Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

CONTRACTS — Approved hiring of Mary Beth Williamson, second-third grade combination; Nancy R. Leisure, fifth grade, and Sharon Lynn Schroeder, first grade.

PERSONNEL — Authorized filling of vacated custodian post by September and approved part-time gardener for summer.

BOOK — Heard report from library committee that parent-contested "Vietnam, Vietnam" by Felix Greene will remain on shelves. Librarian felt "some controversial material" should be available to students.

INSERVICE TRAINING — Heard that social studies, outdoor education and linguistics will be added next year to teacher training program which now includes gifted child study and family life education.

GRADUATION — Approved plans for graduation of 104 eighth graders at White Hill School on June 13 at 7:45 p.m.

Target Board Votes To Suspend Sessions

The San Geronimo-Nicasio Valleys Target Area board voted last night to suspend meetings for the summer or "until further notice," said Mrs. Edwin F. Gardiner of Woodacre, chairman.

"We're not quitting," she said. The target board has assumed a watchdog role on spending practices of Marin's antipoverty agent, the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

Veterans', College Bonds Approved

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Californians voted approval yesterday of two bond issues totaling $265 million for veterans' home loans and junior college construction.

With 70 per cent of the precincts counted, a proposal to issue $200 million to finance home purchase loans for Vietnam veterans had 2,060,564 favorable votes with 1,242,069 opposed.

Authority to issue up to $65 million for junior college building was favored by 1,820,897 voters with 1,388,886 voting against the bonds.

The issue would provide the state's share to be matched with federal aid and local district funds to acquire land and build junior colleges.

The veterans' bond issue would extend to Vietnam servicemen home and farm purchase loans that have been available to Californians who served in World Wars I and II and in Korea.

They would be general obligation bonds but no tax money is involved. The bonds are redeemed through repayment of loans by the veterans.

Recorder Hits Bruce For Deleting Staffer

County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini charged today that the County Administrator Alan Bruce is deleting one staff member "without reason when our workload is actually increasing."

The recorder made his complaint at a joint workshop meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors with seven department heads at Civic Center this morning.

Giacomini requested $147,335 for the 1968-69 budget, but the county administrator recommended that one position be eliminated and the total budget be held to $140,569.

Farm adviser Winston Engvall and Argicultural Commissioner Richard Straw said they are seeking a half-time secretary to serve both departments, but the county administrator is recommending against this addition.

County Librarian Virginia Keating asked that one library assistant be upgraded in position because of her ability and duties, and that a raise be given to her administrative assistant.

The supervisors said these requests will be considered during the budget hearings will start on June 17.

Kettenhofen Says Defeat Disappoints

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen today expressed disappointment in losing to Peter R. Arrigoni but added that he has no regrets and will continue to vote his convictions.

"I feel I have served Marin well as I saw the issues," said Kettenhofen. "I have no regrets . . . I would act and vote the same again under the same circumstances. I retain my same convictions and will continue the balance of the year in this same manner and hope Marin will be the beneficiary."

Judge Continues Brockman Murder Trial To Fall

Special to the I-J

SANTA ROSA — Trial of Jack Brockman, 21, for murder of Charles J. Kaufmann, 18, last Oct. 7 was continued yesterday from June 25 to Sept. 4 by Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. in Sonoma County Superior Court.

Public Defender Marteen Miller asked the postponement on the plea his office has not had time to prepare its case. Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland objected that the delay may make it impossible to have some out-of-state witnesses testify.

Brockman is charged in the slaying jointly with Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, and Kenneth Preston, 20. Preston is on trial in Marin County on a charge of murder of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ackley in their Santa Venetia trailer home on Jan. 13. Sommerhalder is scheduled to go on trial in San Rafael for those murders next week.

The Federal government's General Services Administration buys around 5,000 new automobiles a year for government use.

Burglars Hit Two Apartments

San Rafael police reported two Canal Street apartments were burglarized while the occupants slept early yesterday.

A portable television set valued at $125 and a purse containing $10 to $15 were taken from the apartment of Lois M. Scheemeacker, 345 Canal Street, by a thief who pried open a sliding glass door.

A purse containing $10 was taken from the living room floor of the apartment of Irene Sanford, 400 Canal Street. The thief had gained entry by removing the screen from an open window.

To reduce evaporation from soil, tests are being made with plastic film coverings and chemicals.

To Freeze Or Preserve Those Fresh Berries

No doubt about it, jars of red-ripe berries in the freezer and luscious preserves in the pantry provide a quick and delightful way to brighten a drab meal. Even so, nothing quite matches strawberry jam for everyday enjoyment.

If you are one of the over 22,000,000 women who do home canning each year, you know that it is all but impossible to improve on plain strawberry jam. However, if strawberries are scarce or high in price and rhubarb is plentiful, or if you simply want a greater variety or a more tart jam, it will pay you to make several batches with a mixture of strawberries and rhubarb. Its sweet tartness is just right for both the breakfast toast and the ever popular peanut butter and jam sandwich.

STRAWBERRY-RHUBARB JAM

3 cups crushed strawberries
1½ cups chopped rhubarb
1 box powdered fruit pectin
⅛ teaspoon salt
5½ cups sugar

Wash and rinse 6 or 7 pint tapered fruit jars and dome lids, cover them with water. Bring water to boiling. Turn off heat. (No need to boil them.) Wash, drain, "cap", chop or crush and measure strawberries. Wash, drain and split rhubarb into two or more pieces lengthwise then crosswise. Pieces should be about the size of a kernel of corn. Measure sugar. Put rhubarb and 2 tablespoons of water in large (4 to 6 quart) kettle. Cook over low heat until rhubarb is tender. While rhubarb cooks, remove jars and lids from hot water; invert on towel to drain. Add strawberries, pectin and salt to rhubarb.

Stir mixture while bringing to fast boil. Stir in sugar, bring mixture back to fast rolling boil. Keep stirring and boil exactly one minute. Remove from heat. Skim off foam and quickly pour boiling hot jam to ⅛ inch of top of jars. (If you spill jam on jar, wipe it away.) Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Invert jars for a few minutes then set upright to cool.

If fruit raises to top, let stand 30 or 40 minutes or until mixture begins to thicken then shake jars to mix fruit through syrup. This is supposed to be a soft jam. As do most jams made with pectins, it becomes stiffer after standing a few weeks.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

Start with firm-ripe, medium sized, fine textured berries. Make half of recipe if you like, but do not increase it.

2 quarts prepared berries
6½ cups suagr
¼ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons lemon juice

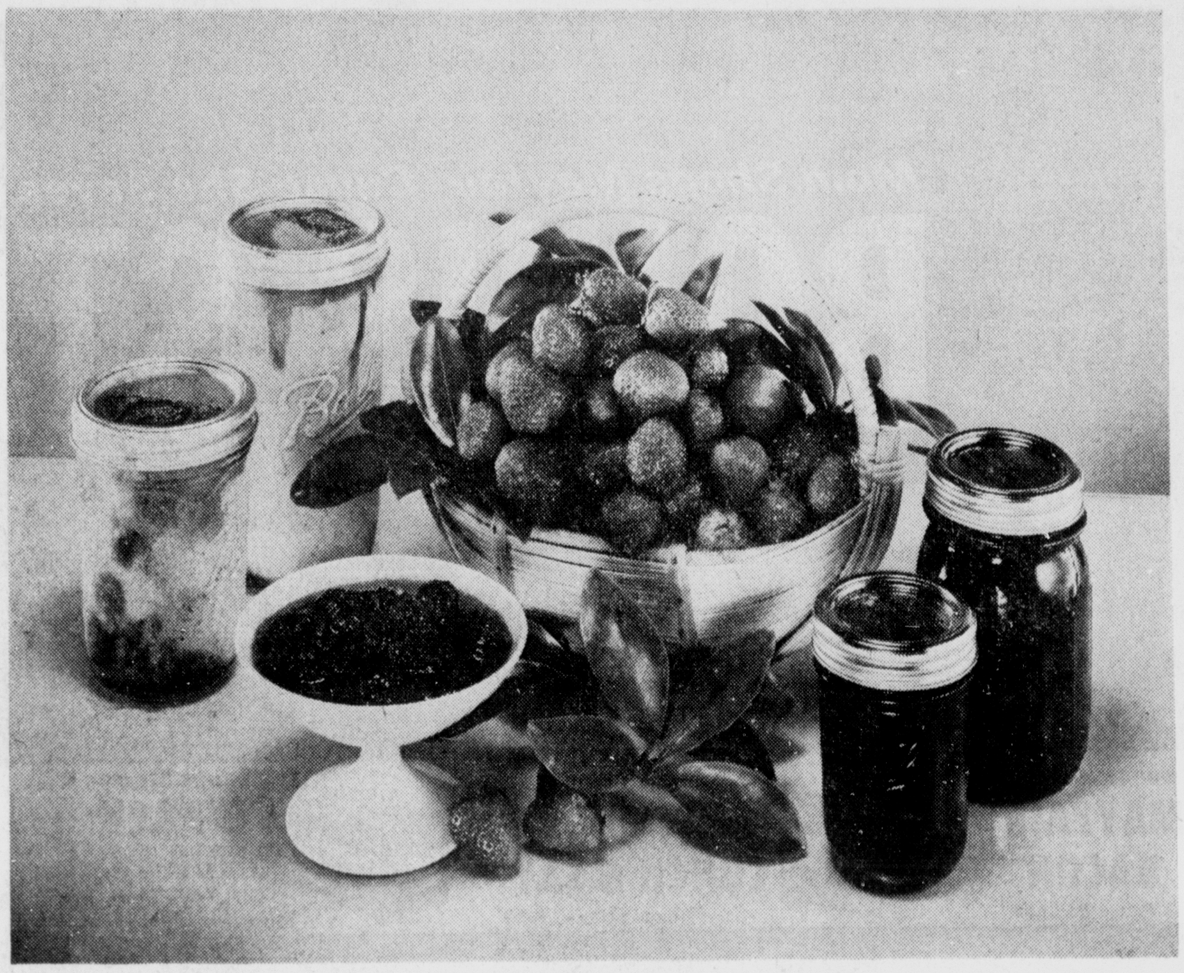
You will need a large kettle of boiling water, so put water on to boil before preparing berries. (You have to wash, drain, "cap", and measure berries. Each quart should be "shake down" full, but not heaped.) Put berries in colander or square of cheesecloth and dunk into the boiling water for exactly two minutes -- be sure every berry is under water. Drain berries and put them in kettle with 4 cups sugar, the salt and lemon juice. Gently mix sugar and berries, then boil three minutes. Remove kettle from heat and let stand 6 minutes. Add the other 2½ cups of sugar and boil nine minutes. Shake kettle to prevent berries sticking. Turn preserves into shallow glass or enamelware pan and let stand in cool place 18 to 24 hours — shake pan every now and then. Pack preserves to ⅛ inch of top of pint or half pint home canning jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Process at simmering (almost but not quite boiling) for 20 minutes.

TO FREEZE STRAWBERRIES

Strawberries may be frozen in dry sugar or in syrup. One quart of prepared berries usually requires ¾ cup sugar; the amount may be increased or decreased to suit taste. It is advisable to use ascorbic acid or an ascorbic acid mixture to help fruit hold color, flavor and vitamins. Ascorbic acid or ascorbic acid mixture is sprinkled over the fruit before mixing with the sugar or is added to ice cold syrup just before it is used. Use amount recommended by the manufacturer.

Points to remember when freezing strawberries:

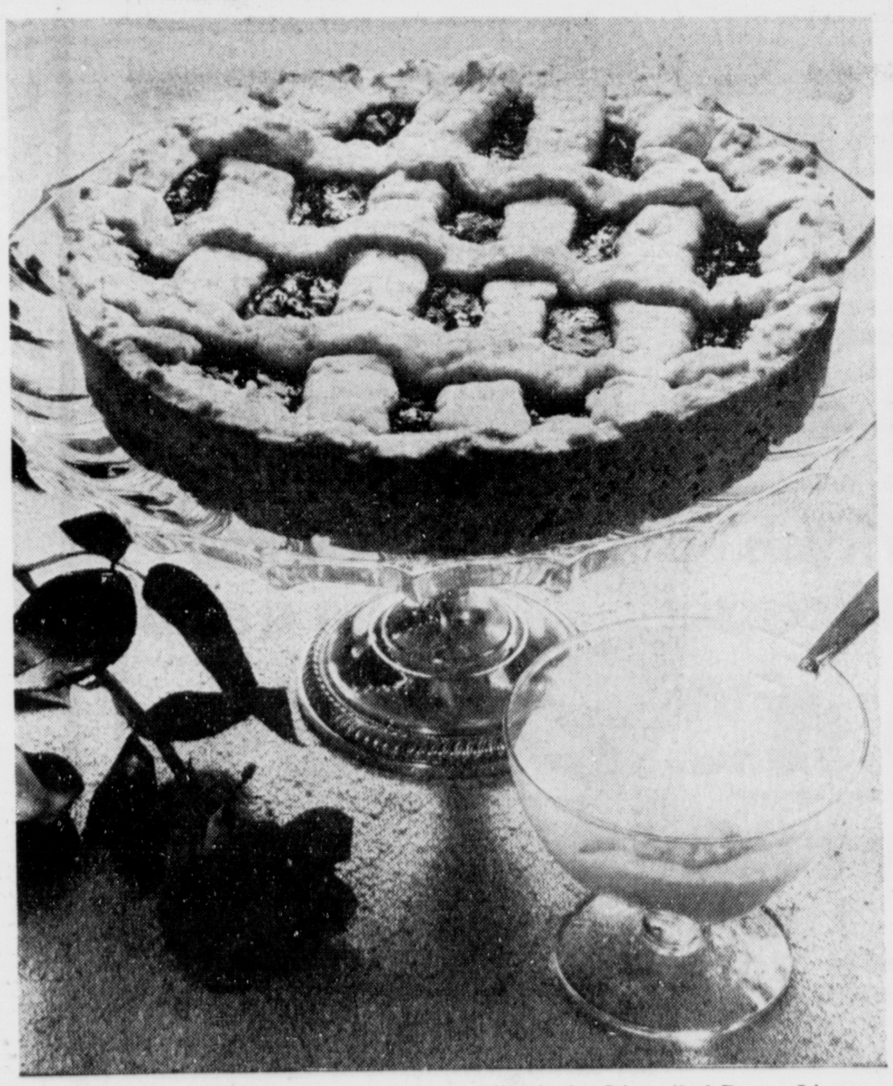
1. Use fresh, sound, fully ripe berries of fine flavor.
2. Rinse berries in ice cold water and drain before removing "caps." Handle gently, quickly and as little as possible.
3. Use air tight, leak, moisture, odor and vapor proof containers such as tapered can or freeze jars.
4. Highest quality in frozen strawberries is more easily obtained by slicing and covering berries with syrup because syrup fills spaces between the pieces and thus helps drive air from the container.



USE YOUR FREEZER to put up jars of red-ripe strawberries in dry sugar or in syrup. Also, it's a good time to make some berry preserves, either combined with rhubarb or the berries alone.

Zesty Salad

Menu first course in a proverbial rut? Try this novel salad. Ring an individual salad plate with sliced chilled cucumber. In the center arrange a bed of finely chopped lettuce leaves and top with 6 or 7 whole, drained Norway sardines. Garnish with criss-cross strips of red pimento and serve with your favorite home-made or store bought salad dressing.



A SPECIAL DESSERT is needed for a special dinner event, and this Viennese prune pastry will fill the bill nicely. It's called Prune Linzertorte, and can be made a day ahead and kept in the refrigerator.

Elegant Prune Linzertorte Can Be Made The Day Ahead

Special event coming up that calls for special dessert? A Viennese pastry that took its name from the town of Linz in Austria could very well be the answer, providing you're the type who likes compliments about her baking.

This rich, dark filling of prunes and raspberry jelly is covered by lattice top of pastry to which chopped pecans have been added.

Prune Linzertorte is everything a dessert should be. The California prunes add to the moistness. The cake-type pastry has just the right amount of sweetness.

If you are planning to serve Prune Linzertorte after dinner, it will make 12 to 16 servings. As the main attraction with a beverage, the slices may be cut larger. And of course, when served with whipped cream, you don't count calories.

This cake keeps very well when wrapped and refrigerated. Another bonus for those who like to make their dessert the day before company is expected.

PRUNE LINZERTORTE

1 cup prunes
1 cup water
1⅓ cup red raspberry jelly
¾ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cloves (ground)
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups finely chopped pecans
2 cups flour

Combine prunes and water. Bring to boil, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Cool. Drain, pit and mash with fork. Heat raspberry jelly and stir in prunes. Cool. Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time beating after each addition. Beat in seasonings. Fold in pecans and flour. Set aside about 1/5 of the dough. Put remainder of dough on bottom and cup sides of 9-inch cake pan. Fill well with prune filling. Make strips from unsued dough and make lattice top over prune filling. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) over 50 to 60 minutes or until golden brown. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

MARIN COOKBOOK

Mailing Committee's Lunch Menu Suggested

The Marin Conservation League members have come up with a suggestion for "Lunch for the Mailing Committee" as the league's entry in the new Marin Art and Garden Center Cookbook, available at the center.

The menu consists of Far East Tuna, Hot Buttered Rolls and a Fresh Fruit Platter, in quantities to feed four to six committee members.

FAR EAST TUNA

2 large cans tuna
1 medium onion, chopped
½ cup finely diced celery
1 apple pared and chopped
5 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons curry powder
2½ cups milk
2 hard cooked eggs, quartered
3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice

Drain oil from tuna into saucepan. Add onion, celery and chopped apple. Cook until onion is tender but not brown. Add flour, sugar, salt and curry powder; stir to make a paste.

Add milk and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add tuna to sauce with eggs; heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice.

If desired, other accompaniments such as chutney, raisins, shredded coconut, crumbled crisp bacon may be served.

FRESH FRUIT

On large serving platter arrange bunches of fresh grapes, red apples, and fresh pears. Then each guest makes her own selection.

Food Stretcher

To make a small amount of meat, fish or chicken go a long way, combine it with a thin cream sauce and cooked noodles or rice in a casserole-type dish.

A Different Salad For Your Near East Barbecue

Coat torn, bite-size pieces of western iceberg lettuce with a crushed celery seed-sour cream dressing. Trim lavishly with chopped egg and minced parsley, surround with drained, separately marinated beets and canned Blue Lake green beans and serve with grilled lamb cubes on skewers.

Styles In Costumes For Fall Will Vary

By JOAN IEPPA

PARIS (UPI)—Paris ready-to-wear shows don't produce the sort of fashion earthquakes that haute couture collections can create, but they come up with some interesting ideas.

Here are some of the most trend-setting from showings of fashions to be sold off-the-peg next fall and winter:

—Forest green as an important basis color, worn the way brown was last winter and navy was this spring, for stockings, shoes, suits, hats, offsetting the other important colors, red, white and black.

—ASYMETRICAL HEMLINES as an alternative to the rather tired maxi-midi controversy. The house of Jean Cacarel, best known for its neat tailored blouses in unusual fabrics, came up with some daytime skirts with a pleated dip on one side—rather like Pierre Cardin showed on one dress during his spring haute couture collection.

—Shoes with a thick sole protruding around the edge like a running board, something that disappeared from high fashion long before the latter disappeared from cars.

—Adaptions of the classic long-sleeved blouse or the old wraparound, the simpler and slinkier the better, left open to mid-bosom or below. Often shown on models who were obviously not wearing bras and once on a model with such a gaunt chest that you could literally count her bones.

—TINY CHIGNONS, often bedecked with flowers, arranged by pulling the hair tight to the skull and then winding all the available hair into a tiny knot, most striking worn on one side of the head.

—Fun fur coats mixed with leather by young designer Emmanuel Khanh: Striking when the leather was set in a wide band at the waist to give a cinched look and on the cuffs to give a furry leg o' mutton effect on the sleeve, practical when the leather forms a strip up the inner arm and down the coat side exactly where the less expensive fun furs are likely to show wear.

—LOTS OF KNEE length pants, usually black and full to wear with boots or warm cable knit stockings, shown at Madd with the sort of long buttoned sweaters grandma used to wear in suitably granny colors, maroon and gray.

—A sort of huge glorified safety pin used by Madeleine de Rauch to hold big turned up collars high around the face. Unpinned, the collars laid down smoothly.

—Also in Madeleine de Rauch's ready-to-wear line a lush raincoat made of lightweight black fake fur similar to what used to be called fake otter.

LEATHER SUIT FROM PARIS

With Paris up in arms perhaps this outfit from the Paris ready-to-wear collections is appropriately dubbed "Cowboy." The leather ensemble includes a long jacket trimmed with fur collar and cuffs and ankle-length pants. Boots complete the gaucho look. (UPI Telephoto)

When You Start Out On Your Own, Watch Those Big City Expenses

AP Newsfeatures

Many a girl graduate will soon be off to meet the challenge of living and working in the big city. If you plan to be among them: one way of making sure you really enjoy your new independence is knowing in advance how to avoid money troubles.

To help you get the most for your first-earned money and keep you safely ahead of the bill collectors, here are some suggestions based on the experience of countless career gals who've successfully stormed the big city.

THE FIRST JOB. If you make the rounds of employment agencies, read each contract carefully so you'll know the exact jobfinding fee. Some companies may pay a part or the entire agency fee, so remember to ask about this at interviews. Before you turn down a lower-paying job, tally up the paid vacation time, insurance benefits and tuition refund plan. The job may actually pay more than one with a higher salary and few fringe benefits.

THE APARTMENT. No more than one week's salary after taxes should go for monthly rent, utilities and telephone. Because of high city rentals, many girls find it economical to share apartments and living expenses. Then all roommates should sign the apartment lease so each is legally responsible. Be sure there is a sublet clause so that, if necessary, the lease can be passed on to a suitable tenant.

If you must pay a month's rent in advance and an equal amount in security, pay your share by check to the landlord. When the lease expires, the canceled check will show the exact amount you should be refunded. It's also a wise way to pay deposits, where necessary, for phone, gas and electricity. Cancelled checks will also aid you in figuring income tax returns and an occasional review of checkbook stubs will help you eliminate unnecessary spending.

HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES. For apartment furnishings, search the Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, thrift shops and haunt the auctions for money-saving buys. It is best to decide in advance which, if any, expenditures are to be shared.

Chipping in a few dollars a week seems to be the usual plan for food and household costs. Save by shopping the supermarkets and buying sale items in quantity. Leave the luxury items on the store shelves . . . the gourmet roommate should expect to pay extra if she can't do without caviar.

CREDIT COSTS. About to buy a television set? Before you charge any large purchase at a store, you should compare interest rates. Charging a TV and taking a year to pay can cost you 1½ per cent per month on your unpaid monthly charge account balance . . . or possibly more than 18 per cent a year. And when you charge additional small purchases, the unpaid monthly balance will rise and you'll be paying more in interest charges. A small loan company may charge anywhere from 18 to 42 per cent annual interest if you take a year to repay. Interest rates are lower at the bank where you keep checking and savings accounts. Full-service banks nation-wide charge only from 10 to 16 per cent annual interest for personal loans. With a steady job and a record of prompt bill payments, you might even get a personal loan on signature alone.

CLOTHING. Shop the sales and select quality carefully. Buy only what you really need. An inexpensive sewing machine can save you a bundle in alterations and in simple summer dresses and beach creations.

EMERGENCY FUND. Experts say you should build a savings emergency fund of from three to six months salary after taxes. An easy way to save is to have both checking and savings accounts at the same bank. Then you can have a fixed amount automatically transferred each month from checking to savings where your dollars will earn interest.

VACATIONING. By keeping tabs on spending habits, you're likely to be in good financial shape when vacation time arrives. If you want to take a trip but don't want to dig into your savings, you might see about a low-cost vacation loan at your bank. Chances are you got a raise or two during the year, so your budget may be flexible enough for you to meet monthly loan payments. Your savings will keep earning interest; and the start of your second year in the big city will see you ahead in putting your money to work.

Minority Teen-Agers More Likely To Be Overweight

SAN FRANCISCO—"One out of 10 American teenagers is overweight, and the obesity problem tends to be more common among disadvantaged Negro and Mexican-American adolescents than their Caucasian and Oriental peers," says Dr. Rudolf E. Noble, clinical instructor in Medicine in the Obesity Clinic at the University of California's San Francisco Medical Center.

"Youngsters of the lower socio-economic classes get caught in a vicious circle of bad eating habits," continues Dr. Noble. They snack too much on calorie ice cream sundaes, candy bars and soft drinks.

Unfortunately, their meals at home are also often fattening. Their mothers, who have not been taught how to squeeze the most nutritional value out of a dollar, buy the starchy and sweet foods which they believe to be less expensive, although well-balanced meals can be just as cheap.

"Compounding the problem is lack of exercise. Organized sports and physical education are usually not popular with this group, and like most teenagers they would do anything to avoid walking.

"The fat teen-ager is more likely to develop other medical problems at an earlier age than his slim counterpart — for instance, diabetes, heart, cerebral-vascular, kidney, and gall bladder diseases," Noble said.

He also proposes professional counseling and special classes for teenagers and their mothers in buying nutritious, non-fattening and inexpensive foods.

A Swimming Party In Ross To Be Given For Marin Deb

By MOLLY MARIN

DEBUTANTE SUE Farrell will be honored at a luncheon and swimming party June 15 by Mrs. John F. Weaver Jr. of Ross. All the Marin debs and other Marin friends of Sue have been invited. Spring flowers will decorate the luncheon table at the Weaver home, and box lunches will be served at the informal party. The girls have been invited to come at 11:30 a.m.

Sue, who is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Carl Y. Farrell, is in the graduating class of the Katharine Branson School and will enter the University of Denver this fall.

ADDED TO the fleet of 20 station wagons to transport guests from San Francisco Yacht Club to the Garden Tour tomorrow sponsored by the Belvedere Guilds of Sunny Hills are Mrs. Harris Garrigan's Cadillac town car with liveried chauffeur and the Robert Davies' Classic Rolls Royce, fresh from the Pebble Beach concours d'elegance. Mrs. Gerald Stratford, who is in charge of transportation, will have each vehicle in the shuttle-fleet marked with a bouquet of white flowers and small flags.

IN CASE YOU'RE looking for the crown jewels at the Tower of London this summer, don't look in the usual place. They've gone underground. For the last 100 years they have been lodged in the top chamber of Wakefield Tower, but now they are in a new million dollar vault 26 feet below the parade ground in the heart of the tower complex. Wakefield Tower had long outgrown the tourist demands and was not wired for modern lighting techniques. The new vault is dark except for light directly on the jewels in a more dramatic display of dazzle.

THE PAUL LUNDBERGS JR. will entertain a group of friends at cocktails with co-hosts the Vernon Robertsons and the Michael Anthonys Saturday night before the Novato Junior Women's Club dinner dance. The dance is to be held at Marin Golf and Country Club. Among the guests are the Kenneth Madens, James Chapmans, David Fox and Robert Dimond, all of Novato, the Jerry Chapmans of San Jose and the Edward Lanes Jr. of Terra Linda.

Safety On A Motorcycle

Girls, beware before you jump aboard your friend's motorcycle and ride off down the highway. Motorcycle accidents involving college students constitute a veritable epidemic.

Physicians at the University of California School of Medicine report in the Journal of the American Medical Association that it is some 16 times more dangerous to ride on a motorcycle than in an automobile. They also find, in examining medical records, that there is apparently no such thing as a minor motorcycle accident. Fractures are commonplace and concussions are very much part of the scene.

The physicians warn that motorcycle riding is not a passing fad. Given inadequate public transportation and a shortage of parking space, the motorcycle is virtually a necessity for many students.

The physicians suggest that to safeguard life and limb of motorcyclists, measures be taken forbidding more than one person from riding at a time; making safety helmets and goggles a must; making insurance mandatory.

Dignity Of Officials Prohibits 'Tinkling' Of Bells And Beads

DEAR HELEN:

We hear so much on the question of "if they're old enough to fight, they're old enough to vote." Why not settle this by allowing the vote only to those 18-21 -year-olds who serve in the Armed Forces? This would separate the men from the boys!

(NOTE FROM H.: HOW ABOUT THE GIRLS?)

If an 18-year vote was passed now, all the hippies, pill-poppers, pot-smokers, rioters and draft card burners might combine to get their kind elected to office. Wouldn't it be interesting to see a representative go tinkling into the state house in full regalia of beads, bells, beard and sandals? I'll admit, what we have now sometimes make a mess of things, but at least it doesn't shame our country to see their faces in the paper.

What really burns me is that the above mentioned are for the most part immune from the draft, for they're rejected as unfit. Anyone with a criminal background knows he probably won't have to serve in the Army. I know a recruiter who says he has a hard time filling his quota because of the cards marked, "rejected, police record." In other words, the law puts a penalty on honor and decency and gives a reward to the lawless. Seems to me the Army could make men of them, if anyone could. Why not draft the delinquents rather than pamper them?

Until that day comes, I am against giving the vote to minors. Rather, I'll work for a law to strike the moral from the Defense Department's mental, moral, and physical standards for inductees. — V.W.

DEAR V:

I checked with Selective Service who clarified your statements.

Mental, moral and physical qualifications of registrants are determined by the Department of the Army, according to standards set by the Department of Defense. Should a young man have a lengthy police record, or one which would classify him as an habitual criminal, his papers are marked and returned for review. Even so, many so-called delinquents are accepted into the armed services — and many who go in as punks, come out as men.

As for hippie-types swinging an election, impossible. There aren't enough of them. The majority of young people are as conservative as their elders, and some display considerable more sense! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Does any state have a minimum voting age below 21? — STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT:

Yes. Georgia and Kentucky have established minimum voting age at 18; Alaska at 19; and Hawaii at 20.

And did you know that the United States census now lists more potential voters over 60 than under 30? Even adding the 18-, 19- and 20-year-olds, not much more than 25 per cent of the voting population would be under age 30, certainly not enough to put any one candidate in office. So what's all the shouting about? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I've been wanting to write to you ever since Christmas. You can consider this a very early question or a very late one. It concerns gifts.

Last year was my first Christmas on my new job. I'm only 19, was deserted by my husband and left with a little boy to raise. Money, you can see, is a problem, as I'm also trying to put myself through school.

I asked one of my co-workers about exchanging gifts and she told me the girls never paid less than $2.50 or $3 for presents and everybody gave. So I spent my grocery money and a whole afternoon on buying nice gifts.

In return I received small remembrances, worth almost nothing, and from the woman who clued me in a used coffee mug! She is the wealthiest girl in the office. Her husband owns his own business, and she says she works only to keep amused.

Helen, it's not the price of the gifts that is my complaint. These women didn't even thank me for mine. And why would that woman lie to me? — HURT AND HURTIN'

DEAR H AND H:

Somebody goofed, and possibly the gals didn't make much of your gifts because they were embarrassed.

If you are still at the office next Christmas, I'll bet they make it up to you. Let me know if I'm right — or wrong. — H.

'MEET THE PEOPLE' — Anne Sampson and Guy Gregory, both of San Francisco, are among the performers in "Meet the People," which will be given in three performances Friday, Saturday and Sunday in San Rafael High School Auditorium.

'Meet The People' Set For San Rafael Run

"Meet The People," a lightly satirical revue with a lively young all Negro cast, will be given in three performances, at 8:30 p.m., Friday, Saturday and Sunday in San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The show, which has been seen by about 6,000 high school students in Marin County, and at Vallejo, is attracting some attention from commercial producers in San Francisco. It is co-sponsored by the Festival Theatre and Marin County, which received a Title III federal grant to help put it on.

"Meet The People," 1968, is a descendant of "Meet The People," 1939, which went east from Hollywood in that year and was a commmercial success for two years in New York. It introduced comedian Jack Guilford, Annette Fabre, the "deadpan girl" Virginia O'Brien, and Peggy Ryan. Dorothy Dandridge played in a 1944 revival.

Some of the original sketches which were presented by a white cast in 1939, a year when the depression still lingered, are in the new all Negro "Meet The People," and have a new aptness. A burlesque of southern musical comedy cliches, "It's The Same Old South," is in the new show, with the dialogue slightly sharpened by director Robert Adler of San Anselmo.

In another sketch, a portion of the Bill of Rights is set to music. Another depicts a boy and a girl who want to get married, but haven't the money to establish a home.

The cast members range from Don Gloude of Oakland, a professional comedian who works full time in show business, to Alma Wells of Marin City, whose regular job is evening supervisor of nurses at Kaiser Foundation Hospital.

Lions Club Will Install On Friday

The San Rafael Lions Club will install new officers at a dinner Friday at 7 p.m. at Sabella's Restaurant in Mill Valley.

Officers to be installed are Fred B. Saccone, president; Dr. Howard A. Levenson, first vice president; George Klein, second vice president; Clifford S. Lund, third vice president; Robert J. Brusatori, secretary; Arthur C. Latno, treasurer; Donald C. Barksdale, lion tamer, and Thomas Meisner, tailtwister.

Tam Student Art Works On Display

Focus 68, a showing of paintings, sculpture, graphics and ceramics by Tamalpais High School seniors, will be on display today through June 22 at the Mill Valley Art Gallery from 7 to 9 p.m. on weekdays and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

A reception honoring the artists will be held from 7 to 9 June 12 at the gallery.

Band Rehearsals Begin On June 17

The College of Marin summer band will start rehearsals June 17, John H. Myers, band director, has announced.

Instrumental musicians of all ages may join the band, Myers said. Rehearsals will be held at 7:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays in room 75 of the new Fine Arts Building on the northeast corner of the campus bounded by Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Laurel Avenue in Kentfield.

The band will present two outdoor summer concerts in July for the seventh consecutive year, Myers said.

Truck Ticket Leads To Drug Arrests

It started out as a parking ticket yesterday and ended up as a marijuana arrest for a couple from Gate 6, Waldo Point.

A young man and woman were jailed for investigation of possession of marijuana last night after Sausalito police reportedly found approximately a pound of marijuana in a vacant panel truck that was blocking Pine Street.

At 6:12 p.m., Stuart Bruce Sonnedecker, 22, and Jeanne Lydia Stalder, 23, walked up and got in the truck. Police arrested them and each was held in county jail in lieu of $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Police said they found a wooden box, a plastic box, two plastic bags and two jars containing marijuana, and a pipe used for smoking it.

Artist Barbara Buel Drawings On Display

Mrs. Buel has exhibited in New York, Denver, Florida, San Francisco, Oakland and Marin, and has received prizes from the Marin Society of Artists for paintings, mosaics, sculpture and enamel on metal.

Back Yard Burning

A public meeting on the effect of back-yard burning on air pollution will be held by directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the San Mateo County supervisors' chambers in Redwood City.

Rocks, Egg Shell Scenes In PG&E Hobby, Arts Show

A "rock hound" collection and egg shell scenes will be among the exhibits at the fourth annual arts show of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Pacific Service Employees Association opening at 1 p.m. Sunday at the company's demonstration room, Third and Brooks Streets, San Rafael.

Mrs. Otto Horst of Larkspur will display scenes created inside egg shells.

The show will be open to the public from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sunday through June 15, and from 1 to 5 p.m. June 16.

There will be entries in paintings, photography, collections and creative art, including plastics and ceramics.

Judges will be Mrs. Margot Bull, arts and crafts instructor, Mrs. Bernice Brown, proprietor of the Art Center in San Rafael, and Raymond Rice, art instructor at evening classes at the College of Marin.

Watercolor Scene Course Scheduled

Artist-teacher Richard Yip will conduct an outdoor watercolor painting course Monday through next Friday at locations in Marin County.

The classes will paint at sites such as San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, Samuel P. Taylor State Park, McNear's brickyard in San Rafael and Fort Baker.

Choir To Sing

The 41-voice choir of the California Baptist College in Riverside will present a sacred and secular concert at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church, 1461 South Novato Boulevard, Novato.

As a boy, Henry Ward Beecher was so shy he mumbled when he spoke but he grew up to become a clergyman who delivered powerful sermons that swayed thousands.

'Spring Serenade' To End Concerts

The final musical concert of the school year at Terra Linda High School will be a traditional "Spring Serenade" to be held at the gym Friday at 8 p.m.

Led by Gordon H. Lowe, head of the music department, the Trojan band event will be open to the public.

Larkspur Council Eyes Possibility Of First Bond Calling In 20 Years

Three budget-toiling Larkspur City Council members last night stuck a tentative toe into the pool of bond-issue financing, a plunge the city has not taken in 20 years.

Reviewing the coming year's library budget, Mayor Albert Malvino and Councilmen Earl J. O'Grady and Benton A. Sifford Jr. agreed to recommend that the council as a whole strike out $3,000 allocated to the library's "pay as you go" building fund begun years ago.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst suggested that, "My thought is you should go for a bond issue Nov. 5." The councilmen asked Bathurst to prepare data on the suggested amount of the bond issue, and assistance available from federal and state funds — which might be up to one-third of the total cost.

Librarian Helen S. Wilson and library board member Mrs. Wilbur Lewis also favored dropping the $3,000 from the budget. Left in, it would have brought the 1968-69 library spending total to $31,172, compared with $26,132 for the current year. The $3,000 deletion means the library tax rate will probably remain 10.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation; the small remaining increase should be made up by increased revenues from fines and other sources, Mrs. Wilson said.

Stressing that he was talking only in very "round" figures, Bathurst said that a bond issue for $250,000 should build a library of 8,000 square feet. Bond retirement might raise the tax rate 6 to 6.5 cents; the larger library would perhaps cost 14.5 to 15 cents on the tax rate to operate, bringing the total rate to 21.5 cents or less — well below the legal maximum 30 cents for library services.

The city's last bond election, in 1948, financed improvements in the city sanitary sewer system. The city has no bonded indebtedness at this time, Bathurst said.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Wilson explained that the tentative $3,000 allocation was a resumption of a practice begun by the city council several years ago of setting aside a like amount annually for an eventual new library. The fund now is more than $15,000, including gifts. No money was put away for the last two years because discussions were centering on the idea of joint library plans for Larkspur and Corte Madera, or possibly the entire lower Ross Valley.

Such a plan was to be presented to the Marin Board of Supervisors today for public hearing. Larkspur has rejected the plan as it now stands, and council sentiment is to go it alone on a new library, probably in the Piper Park area.

Other library budget discussion centered on enrolling the library staff in the state pension program, from which it is no excluded.

After worrying whether a qualified librarian can be found to succeed Mrs. Wilson — who earns $628 per month after 35 years on the job — at the same salary, the councilmen agreed to Mrs. Wilson's and Mrs. Lewis' suggestion that the pay might be raised if recruiting efforts fail.

Turning to the police department budget, the council made no changes in the proposed $106,337 item, subject to possible revision after salary discussions. O'Grady asked and received assurance that the proposed total of $1,200 for training expenses was enough to prepare the city's police for emergencies "in this day of unrest."

The council adjourned to tonight's regular meeting at 8 p.m. in city hall, after agreeing that another budget session must be set to complete the financial review before the city awards contracts for improvements on Magnolia Avenue on June 19.

Vice Mayor Neil Brixon and Councilman William G. Fleckles were absent.

Novato Clean-Up Meetings Slated

A clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign has been scheduled for September by the Novato Citizens Beautification Committee.

The committee, meeting Monday night, scheduled a meeting with the Novato Chamber of Commerce for noon tomorrow at the Red Vest restaurant to discuss a paint-up program for downtown businesses, City Mrg. J. Julien Baget said. Committee members met with the Downtown Merchants Association Monday night.

A third meeting, with representatives of civic organizations, to discuss participation in a clean-up campaign was set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Novato Community House.

Mississippi Books Fund Is Planned

Board members of the White Hill School Parent-Teacher Association have decided to raise funds to send 500 tons of books to Mississippi school children.

"We're going to get those books there shortly," Mrs. Cathy Kimball, president, said yesterday. The books she referred to are supplementary texts and textbooks declared obsolete by the California Department of Education.

Robert E. Spain, coordinator of instructional materials for the Marin County Superintendent of Schools office, has been seeking transportation to get the books to Lee County, Miss., in answer to a need discovered when Reed School District teachers visited there as part of a teaching-consulting team last March.

Mrs. Kimball said the P-TA board's legislative chairman, Mrs. Jane Durr, recommended that their group contact as many P-TA boards as possible. If not enough money is raised through the Ross Valley Council of the PT-A, in central and southern Marin, Mrs. Kimball said her organization will then contact all school districts in the county, but "the response has been good so far," she added.

Spain, according to Mrs. Kimball, said that it would cost about $600 to ship the books, packed in 50-pound boxes, by truck.

Pioneer Park Plan Goes To Commission

Plans for the first phase development of Pioneer Memorial Park have been presented to the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

Ribera and Sue, Oakland landscape architects, presented detailed drawings of the project Monday night and showed slides of similar parks, Adams said.

The commission spent more than two hours discussing the project and asking questions but took no action, Adams reported. Commission members were generally pleased with the drawings, he said.

The plans will be presented to the public at a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Community House.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also:

PLAYGROUND — Approved an advance budget request of $1,750 to finance a summer playground program at the San Ramon School in San Marin. The request will go to the city council for approval Tuesday.

LITTLE LEAGUES — Heard that the Little League baseball diamond at Arroyo Avichi Park, adjacent to Rancho School, will be ready for acceptance by the city later this week. The Little League will play its first game on the diamond on Tuesday, Adams reported.

ATTENDANCE — Heard that 18,398 persons used city recreation facilities during May.

Rapid Reading Course Slated

A rapid reading course for high scool students will be conducted at the Marin Jewish Community Center, 200 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, for five weeks beginning July 2.

The 16-hour course will be taught by psychologist Walter Larsen from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Sounding Board Topic: Welfare

Two Marin County officials and two attorneys from the San Francisco Neighborhood Legal Assistance Foundation will discuss recent federal court injunctions against California's residency requirements for welfare recipients on the KTIM Sounding Board at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate the discussion among panelists Betty Presley, county director of social services; Thomas G. Hendricks, Deputy County Counsel, and attorneys Peter Sitkin and Stephen Antler.

Questions phoned during the first half-hour will be answered in the second half. The broadcast will be repeated at 10 a.m. Sunday on tape.

Eagles Planning Installation Rite

Installation of officers for San Rafael Eagles Aerie 256 will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Portuguese American Hall in San Rafael.

Magnolia Park Set Graduation Tuesday

Tomales Votes For Unification

Voters in the Tomales Joint Union High School District yesterday approved unification of the district with the four elementary school districts within its boundaries by a vote of 784 to 314.

The measure which required a simple majority vote, got a 71.40 per cent favorable vote.

The four elementary districts to become unified with the high school district are Tomales Bay Union, West Marin Union, Watson and Bodega Bay, covering northwest Marin and a portion of Sonoma County. Unification will become effective July 1, 1969.

On a separate ballot, voters defeated a measure to have the unified district assume the bonded indebtedness of the existing district. The vote was 625 yes, a 63.71 per cent favorable vote, and 356 no, short of the required two-thirds vote. State law, however, provides an automatic alternative for leveling indebtedness in the districts involved.

The voters also elected seven trustees to serve on the board of the unified district. Elected at large but representing trustee areas were:

Area 1 — Bruce B. Daniels of Point Reyes Station, received 829 votes to defeat Lawrence J. Walters of Inverness, who had 163.

Area 4 — Roy A. Parks of Tomales, a Tomales High School District trustee, with 474 votes defeated Herbert H. Angress of Marshall, 375 votes, and David D. Burbank Jr. of Fallon, 157.

Area 6 — LeRoy R. Erickson of Valley Ford with 330 votes defeated Raymond A. Romelli, 298, Evelyn M. Mazzucchi, 265, and Clara Perucchi, 42.

San Anselmo School Bonds Are Defeated

San Anselmo School District's $510,000 bond proposal was defeaed at the polls yesterday, failing to get the necessary two-thirds favorable vote.

The unofficial totals were 3,453 yes votes, 57.24 per cent and 2,579 no votes, 42.75 per cent.

After a $950,000 bond issue failed last October, the district offered the new measure to take care "of only the most vitally needed projects."

Passage would have provided funds for a six-classroom unit at Red Hill School, a multi-purpose structure for teaching, music training and physical education at Hidden Valley School and correction of drainage problems at Sleepy Hollow School.

Mediator Attempting Machinists' Session

A federal mediator today was trying to set up a meeting Friday to attempt settlement of the three-day-old machinists' strike, idling about 800 workers, at five Marin County metal fabricating plants.

Clell E. Harris of the Federal Mediation Service in San Francisco, commenting "the situation looks hopefu," said he had talked to the California Metal Trades Association, representing four struck firms and Machinists Union Local 238 of San Rafael last night. A meeting is tentatively set for 10 a.m. Friday at the Tiburon Lodge.

According to Thomas Bevan, business representative for Local 238, "the situation doesn't look any better to us," despite "some proposals from some of the companies" being considered this morning at a meeting of union members. No information on the proposals or union action was available.

One firm which is doing its own negotiating in the strike, H. Koch and Sons of Corte Madera had met Monday with Bevan but no results were reported.

The other four struck firms, A. G. Schoonmaker, E. D. Bullard and Vincent Whitney Co., all in Sausalito, and Bergman Manufacturing Co., San Rafael, are being represented by the California Metal Trades Association.

The union, which has agreed to pay raise provision of a three-year contract, is in dispute over employment conditions and an optical-prescription drug benefit.

Sanitary Merger Talks Hour Later

The joint meeting of the Corte Madera and Ross Valley Sanitary District boards to discuss a possible merger of the two districts has been changed from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Voters Pass Anti-Viet Resolution

Sausalito voters yesterday backed a measure seeking a political solution to the Vietnam war by a vote of better than 2 to 1.

The vote on the measure was 1,776 in favor and 853 opposed.

The measure commends President Johnson's peace initiative and urges "that he further seek a political solution through negotiations with all parties involved."

Mill Valley voters passed a similar measure in April before the President limited the bombing of North Vietnam and before peace negotiations began.

Civic Center In Fairfax Is Defeated

A $350,000 bond measure for building a new central fire station was defeated by a vote of 1,676 to 851.

A $200,000 bond issue for a new central police and city administration building was defeated by a 1,727 to 792 vote.

Passage of the measures required a two-thirds favorable vote, but the result was just the opposite.

Voters In Sausalito School District Approve Tax Hike

Voters in the Sausalito School District yesterday approved increasing the district's general purpose tax rate from $2.25 to $2.40 per $100 assessed valuation.

The measure requiring a majority vote got 2,179 favorable votes, 62.88 per cent, and 1,286 opposed, 37.11 per cent.

If the measure had failed, the general purpose tax rate would have returned to 90 cents, an event that would have forced a severe cutback in school services.

I was a second try to boost the tax rate. In March voters defeated a proposed increase to $2.45 with an indefinite time limit.

Girl Is Hit; Condition Good

An 8-year-old Novato girl was reported in good condition today at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco with head injuries received when she was hit by a car Monday.

Frantina Katherine Davis of 1145 Dickson Drive was struck by the car at 2:10 p.m. while walking on the sidewalk in front of 862 San Jose Boulevard, police reported.

Police said the car was driven by Mary Ann Coyle, 18, of 355 Marin Oaks Drive, Novato. The automobile apparently jumped the curb and hit the child, throwing her against a nearby telephone pole, police said.

Miss Coyle told police she had been driving only two months and had recently received her driver's license. She said she could not remember how the accident occurred, police reported.

Marinwood Voters Back Hiking Tax

Voters in the Marinwood Community Services District yesterday approved raising the property tax rate in the district from $1 to $1.35 per $100 assessed valuation.

The vote was 833 yes, a 56.43 per cent margin, where passage required only a majority vote. There were 643 no votes, 43.56 per cent.

Address Is Wrong

The Independent-Journal yesterday erroneously reported the address of Daniel Lee Temple, 21, who was arrested for carrying a gun while being a convicted felon. His address is 17 Francis Street, San Rafael, Marin County Sheriff's Department said, not 18 Francis Street as reported.

PIECES ON DESK

Marinite Tears Up Induction Papers

Henry Joseph Aigner, 23, former editor of the College of Marin campus newspaper, tore up his induction papers at the Oakland Army Induction Center today and left the pieces on the desk of a soldier at an information desk.

Aigner, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Joseph Aigner, 32 Williams Street, San Rafael, said he told the soldier, "I refuse to fight in this war." The soldier did not reply and Aigner told the soldier he would wait outside for five minutes if the induction center wanted to send out an FBI man to get the name of his lawyer.

"We waited about 10 minutes and when no one came out, we went and had breakfast. I don't feel like I did anything offensive or that I should have to go to jail for it."

Aigner, a San Francisco Chronicle copy boy who lives at 113 Rice Lane, Larkspur, has been planning to refuse induction for several months. He said that he sought conscientious objector status for more than a year, but would turn it down now if it were offered to him.

A group of Aigner's friends followed his bus to the center this morning. He had sent out about 35 printed invitations to friends which read, "The honour of your presence is requested at the induction refusal of Hal Aigner . . ."

In a typewritten statement, he declared, "The underlying motive is that I desire to lead as moral a life as I am capable of living and I see any confrontation with the laws of this land as being a consequence of trying to maintain my moral behavior."

He said he would not accept a conscientious objector classification, a student deferment or any other deferment because it would mean cooperating with the Selective Service System.

$50 Million Anti-Missile Base Possible For Marin

A $50 million anti-missile missile base with a payroll of nearly $3 million will probably be built somewhere in Marin County, Supervisor John F. McInnis revealed today at a meeting of the board of supervisors.

"I have reason to believe that a tentative site has been selected somewhere in Marin County," said McInnis. He did not elaborate.

On his motion, supervisors decided to send a letter to the mayor's office in San Francisco, where a meeting will be held with Pentagon officials Friday morning. The letter will express Marin's interest in the missile base and pledge Marin's cooperation with the Air Force.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, at a luncheon in Sausalito last Thursday, disclosed that the Air Force wants to set up the base somewhere in the Bay Area.

Supervisors also this morning named Robert B. McCreadie, a Novato attorney, to the Marin County Personnel Commission to succeed Victor P. Reed, who resigned.

The board also announced its intention to rehire Mrs. Marguerite Harris, reading specialist with the district since February, if funds are available under the Miller-Unruh Reading Act. It is not known when a decision on the state funds will be made at the state level.

Fire Bomb Hits McCarthy Quarters

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Fire bombs were tossed into a polling place and through the window of Sen. Eugene McCarthy's Fillmore Street headquarters last night.

Two young men, identified as Black Panthers, were arrested early today as they sprinted away from the McCarthy headquarters. Two Molotov cocktails had exploded, causing a small blaze which was quickly extinguished. Damage was minor.

Highest Roads

DENVER (AP) — Colorado has the three highest automobile roads in the nation. Two go to the summits of Pikes Peak and Mount Evans, each more than 14,000 feet above sea level. The third is Trail Ridge Road between Estes Park and Grand Lake, which climbs to 12,183 feet.

Novato Unit Against Racism Outlines Four-Point Program

A four-point program to end racial discrimination in housing ir Novato was adopted last night by the Novatans for Racial Equality, according to Mrs. Charles Smith, committee member.

The program is to work through existing church and community service groups to handle specific discrimination problems as they arise; to help educate white persons about the current racial dilemma; to continue to channel individual requests to the proper person or organization, and to begin a program of self-education on racial problems using available films and tapes, Mrs. Smith reported.

Committees were established to investigate the federal rent subsidy program, the availability of rental housing for Negroes in Novato and the hiring of Negro teachers in Novato Schools, she said.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m., June 18, at Mrs. Smith's home, 2449 Center Road, Novato. All interested persons are invited to attend, she said.

Six 50-pound boxes of nails were taken from a construction shed in San Rafael's Mount Marin development, police said today.

Novato Downtown Beauty Pledge

The Novato Downtown Merchants Association last night pledged its support to the paint-up, clean-up, fix-up program proposed by the Novato Citizens Beautification Committee.

B. F. Edwards, association president, said the merchants were very enthusiastic about the paint-up program which was outlined by beautification committee representatives at the meeting.

The association members also heard a report from Howard McGill of the Novato Planning Department on the current campaign to remove illegal signs in the city. McGill told the merchants that the program was progressing well, Edwards said.

The 15th wedding anniversary is traditionally called the crystal anniversary.

Secret Service Quickly Sent To Candidates

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson today sought congressional action to authorize Secret Service protection for all presidential candidates and their families.

After the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles, Johnson telephoned Secret Service Director James J. Rowley and asked that a protective detail of agents be assigned immediately to each candidate and members of his immediate family.

This was an emergency action which is not currently authorized by law. The President asked lawmakers to introduce the necessary legislation.

The present law provides Secret Service protection for the President, the vice president and their immediate families as well as former Presidents, if they so desire, and Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The White House said "there is no authorizing legislation for this action, but the President has asked that this be done."

Johnson telephoned key members of Congress to tell them he had assigned the Secret Service to each of the candidates.

Battered Museum Safe Is Found

An 800-pound safe, battered and opened by burglars who took it May 23 from Louise A. Boyd Junior Museum in San Rafael, was found discarded near North San Pedro Road, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the back of the safe, found west of an archery range near the road Monday, had been peeled off. Numerous cancelled museum checks were scattered beside the safe, they said, along with an empty cash box and several ledgers.

San Rafael police said thieves forced the back door of the museum on Albert Park Lane and took the safe after opening and looting an attache case. Contents of the safe and case were not disclosed.

Parents Told Belatedly Of Shooting

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy and his wife, Rose, were told this morning that their son, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was shot early today.

Ann Gargan, niece and companion to the ambassador, told Mrs. Kennedy before she attended Mass at St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the youngest son, told his father when he talked with him by telephone this morning, Miss Gargan said.

When asked how the elder Kennedys had taken the news, Miss Gargan replied:

"How would you take it if you were told another son had been shot in the head?"

Her voice broke and she said, "It's terrible. We are praying."

Heavy police guards surrounded the home.

In Paris, U.S. Ambassador Sargent Shriver said today that he and his wife, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's sister, and Mrs Edward Kennedy, the wife of the Massachusetts senator, "are making arrangements to fly to the United States if necessary."

Mrs. Edward Kennedy is in Paris with the Shrivers after a visit to Dublin.

Shriver said they were all "very shocked by the news" of the shooting of Sen. Kennedy.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Shriver, the former Eunice Kennedy, was expected to go ahead with plans for her first call on France's first lady, Mme. Yvonne de Gaulle, late this afternoon. Shriver arrived in Paris May 8 to take over the embassy.

An embassy spokesman said Shriver also was going ahead with his day's schedule.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy learned about the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today by means of a telephone call from relatives in London that she thought concerned her brother-in-law's victory in the California primary.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, said her husband had notified the widow of the late president at her New York home.

"She just didn't know the real story behind it all. It was the middle of the night in America and she had been asleep. She was terribly stunned."

Shooting Of Kennedy Casts Pall Over Primary

Americans have long prided themselves on the national ability to resolve political disputes and elect new leaders without violence.

No more.

We in the United States have often decried, with an attitude of superiority, the disorders attendant upon election campaigns in countries of Central and South America. "It can't happen here," we have said, in effect.

No more.

The shooting of Robert F. Kennedy, moments after he acknowledged his narrow California primary victory over Eugene J. McCarthy early today, dispels all claim of Americans that we can conduct orderly political campaigns free of violence. It underwrites anew the tragedy that our national climate has become one in which free debate and honest dissent are in constant peril.

THE ATTEMPTED MURDER of a leading candidate for nomination for the presidency casts a pall over assessment of the primary election itself.

Fear of the violence that stalks our land, however, may have contributed to the primary results.

It very likely earned votes for Max Rafferty, who won the Republican nomination for Senate over Thomas H. Kuchel, who had long been regarded as unbeatable. Rafferty has geared his campaign to the issue of violence in the "ghettos," on the streets, on the campuses. His call for return of law and order has sounded sometimes like a call for a police state—but its basic appeal to a people in fear was proved by the ballots.

LOCALLY, THE PRIMARY had its surprises—but fortunately, none that was written with bullets.

The supervisorial votes indicated widespread dissatisfaction with the way our county government has been performing. Incumbent Ernest N. Kettenhofen was soundly trounced in the Second District, in which Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., successful candidate, campaigned more aginst Kettenhofen's record than on his own record. Incumbent Thomas T. Storer faces a November runoff with Louis H. Baar in the Fourth District.

Surprising strength was shown by Donald J. O'Leary in winning second place in the six-candidate Third District field for a November runoff with Michael Wornum. Pre-primary predictions had been almost unanimous that Margaret Azevedo and Wornum would be in the run-off.

Fairfax voters handed a slap to the former city council (of which supervisorial winner Arrigoni was a member) in trouncing two bond issues that council had put on the ballot.

It was a bad day for bond issues also in San Anselmo, where the second attempt at a school bond measure (greatly scaled down from the first) failed to win the necessary two-thirds vote. But Sausalito voters gave their school board the tax rate it sought (and which was once turned down) to keep the schools on their present program.

And while county-wide attention centered on other matters, the voters of Tomales High School District created Marin's second unified school district and consigned to oblivion four small elementary districts, two in Marin and two in Sonoma.

AHEAD LIES the campaign for the November election. Our prayers must be that nowhere will it be marked by further violence such as that early today in Los Angeles' Ambassador Hotel.

Abundance Of Birdsong

We would be hard put to it to explain why, but our little corner of Marin seems to be exploding with a vast number of bird songs. Warbling, thrilling, complex quail calls, coos, squawks and one-note peeps—all are part of our daily diet of a cappella bird song. There seem to be more birds about than at any time in the past 20 years.

Perhaps it only seems to be or maybe there is less DDT being used, or could be that more is being used but that the birds are becoming immune. Whatever the reason, we are grateful and are happily enjoying the enchanting vocal acrobatics of these small songsters.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan's New 'Communicators' Have Election Year Look

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A somewhat unusual press conference was called by Gov. Ronald Reagan recently, apparently for the sole purpose of introducing special representatives of the governor's office in the state's tax multi-service centers.

Governor Reagan slapped the national Democratic administration rather hard for doing too little for minorities. He said it has a program of broken promises, sudden changes, and bureaucratic activity.

ASKED JUST what the special co-ordinators are going to do to earn the $900 per month the taxpayers will pay them, the governor explained they will report directly to his "secretary for human affairs," who is Robert Keyes.

He said one of the requests he has heard most often in meeting with minority groups is for more communications with the governor's office and more awareness of the minority problems.

"These new appointments," he said, "not only provide the communications but also a part of their jobs will be to help break down the barriers that exist in any bureaucracy, and to rid state government of any vestige of discrimination.

"I have great faith in all the citizens of California and their ability and desire to get along together, and to live peacefully as law-abiding citizens.

"But for some, especially our Negro and Mexican citizens, the road has been difficult. And it has been made more so by the high expectations raised by those in the other party, especially at the federal level, and their massive failure to deliver on those promises."

ASKED HOW LONG the consultants would serve on the state payroll, the governor said as long as their services were necessary. There are funds in the 1968-69 budget for the consultants, but the consultants are on the job before the budget has been adopted.

State and local governments are equipped already to handle minority problems, through the department of employment, industrial accident commission, division of housing, national guard, local police, and so on ad infinitum. But with elections coming up, more bureaucrats seem to be needed for "communication."

Pool of Reflections

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Hanoi's Proposal Found Realistic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If one will pause to examine the history of our involvement in Vietnam it may be reasonably concluded that Hanoi's recent offer not to bomb in the U.S. in exchange for a bombing halt is perfectly justified as well as being extremely realistic

We have never offered any evidence to show that North Vietnamese regulars were infiltrating prior to the commencement of the bombing. Nor that the Viet Cong were receiving any appreciable aid from the North at that time. But in a desperate effort to shore up a disintegrating South Vietnamese regime we used the dubious pretext of the Gulf of Tonkin to begin bombing the North. Bombing that has proceeded at a greater rate than all the tonnage dropped in World War II. And with infiltration now a reality, the best figure we can come on with is 85,000 men (and one must keep in mind our inventive capabilities when it comes to estimating body counts, etc.). And this figure, if indeed true, should still be compared to our over one-half million men involvement, most of whose presence preceded the North Vietnamese.

So now we warn this tiny, underdeveloped nation, who never made even an ominous gesture toward us, who was not an active participant in the guerrilla war in the South, whom we have never declared war against, that they must do something meaningful to earn the right to be free of our murderous reign of terror (a frightful portion of the bombing being devoted to the use of anti-personnel weapons that are admittedly only effective against human flesh, not man-made objects).

What brutal hypocrisy for us to raise any conditions for the end to our criminal actions. Who's kidding who?

Traffic Hazards In San Anselmo

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Will it take the loss of a human life to make the San Anselmo city officials realize what a dangerous traffic situation exists on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard? This almost occurred last Thursday (May 23) when a couple, within their rights, were crossing at the Ross Avenue intersection and were hit broadside by a truck which ran the stop sign.

Are the officials aware that Sir Francis Drake, especially southbound between Ross and Bolinas avenues, is being used as a speedway, and that it is a risk to one's life to cross at Bolinas Avenue where there is only a flashing yellow signal on Sunday?

Why aren't the police who are so busy marking cars for overtime and thus also adding to the congestion of the San Anselmo Avenue shopping area instead put to work protecting the lives of citizens on Sir Francis Drake?

And finally, why have steps not been taken to ban curbside parking on Sir Francis Drake between the Hub and the end of Red Hill Shopping Center?

Resort To Violence Narrowly Averted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On May 19, a distinguished looking Negro came into a sporting goods store of which I am an employee. He went back to the gun section of the store and started talking with the owner about a M-1 carbine. He did not ask the usual questions about a weapon of this type. . . . When a person asks if larger clips are available, after being told the maximum number of shells allowed for hunting is five in the gun, one starts to wonder. My employer did.

My employer is Bud Landreth. After realizing that the Negro was quite intent on using this weapon for other than hunting purposes, Mr. Landreth talked for two hours to this gentleman, trying to convince him that killing was not the way to solve problems. He was convinced.

Later while talking to Mr. Landreth I learned the Negro held a Ph.D. and was very active in peaceful means of civil rights. Mr. Landreth also related to me that this man's wife, every day, has been rudely harassed because of her color and his daughter had been called "nigger" in school almost daily. His daughter is in second grade.

This poor human being had almost been to the point of killing someone after many years of peaceful civil rights work.

I think the world needs more people like Mr. Landreth — people who care just a little.

Future Student On Campus Riots

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to comment on the unrest in our colleges. I am 15 years old and I hope to go to college when I graduate from high school. I feel it is very unfair of a small majority (sic) of college students to demonstrate the way they are doing. This is denying the larger majority the full schedule of classes they are entitled to. I would like to know that when it is my turn to go to college that I will be able to take the courses I want. I don't think it should be up to the students to say how a school should be run.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

COMEDIAN Henny Youngman was journeying from Chicago to Los Angeles aboard the Santa Fe Chief some years ago when a man seated across from him in the diner refused to say one word or, indeed, so much as acknowledge his presence at the table. At Albuquerque, Youngman rushed off the train and sent a telegram. It was delivered to his silent table companion at the next station. The telegram read, "Please pass the salt. (Signed) Henny Youngman."

'Bobby Is Not Jack'—Nor Is Nation As It Was In 1960

WASHINGTON — "Bobby Kennedy isn't Jack Kennedy." This judgment on the current Kennedy has been heard more often than any other as Bobby campaigned in the primary states.

Yet it is almost wholly irrelevant to the fate of the present champion of the Kennedy dynasty. For 1968 is not 1960. Insofar as he has patterned his style and his appeal after that of his brother, the late president, Bobby has been going counter to the mood of the country today.

John F. Kennedy in 1960 was running against the complacency and smugness of the Eisenhower years. He promised to get the country moving again. With the charge of a "missile gap," subsequently proved wholly unjustified, he said America's defense had dangerously deteriorated. He wanted to take the country where the action was and millions of younger voters were ready to follow him.

ROBERT KENNEDY is a Democrat who, while he opposes many of the policies of a Democratic administration, cannot run against his own party in power for eight years. Again and again his critics, notably Eugene McCarthy, have reminded him that he was one of the three or four most important figures in a government that perpetrated the Bay of Pigs fiasco and prepared the way for massive intervention in Vietnam. Denials to the contrary, he was a partner in the decisions leading to the Bay of Pigs.

Far more important, however, is what appears to be the mood of the country. From many indications the deep underlying desire is not for action but reaction. The riots in the cities, the student revolts, the marches and demonstrations, these furious phenomena have convinced the great middle mass of the American electorate that things have gone too far and it is time for a return to order, control, calm.

The Kennedy of 1960 was a fresh face on the national scene. While his bright young men had been blooded in the rough school of Massachusetts politics they, too, were new and refreshing in the larger arena. The Kennedy of 1960 could just manage to hold most of the old coalition — labor, the minorities, the city bosses — that had come out of the Roosevelt era.

Bobby Kennedy has been in a conspicuous position for many years. He has made innumerable enemies. The drive by organized labor in Oregon for Lyndon Johnson, netting nearly 13 per cent of the vote with another 7-plus for Hubert Humphrey, chiefly to block Kennedy, may have had as much to do with the Oregon defeat as any single factor.

However, disinterested ithe motives of those supporting Kennedy, the public nevertheless looks upon them as merely eager to take power again. As though by some right of clannish prerogative they would all be back in the White House. Prejudice often as irrational as this, such as the length of his hair, works against the Kennedy of 1968.

IN INDIANA he began to shift his line. He talked about law and order, control of federal programs at the local level, the role of private enterprise in rebuilding the cities. While this last was not new, since it was the base of his approach to the problem of the cities, in a political context coming from him it had a different and alien sound.

That line was simply incompatible with the apostle of the dispossessed and the young who gave him such wild acclaim in the city streets. He knows as well as anyone in public life what must be done through government to strike a balance between the affluent two-thirds and the underprivileged one-third. A Kennedy running on past performance and future promise could not have it both ways.

The Kennedy of 1960 had a stationary target in the failures of the Eisenhower years. Yet, as is often ignored in the great outpouring of grief and guilt following the assassination, he was elected by the narrowest of margins. His majority in the popular vote was 118,550 out of nearly 70 million cast, with the result in several states so paper thin as to put to question the validity of the count. The Kennedy of 1968, running as in 1960 against Richard Nixon, would face far greater obstacles than did his brother eight years ago.

New HEW Chief Pushing 'Welfare For All' Plan

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen is proposing a "single, national welfare system" under a new name still to be selected.

Cohen has recommended privately to President Johnson that the new system be completely financed by the federal government, which now pays approximately 60 per cent of the state and local welfare bill.

Under Cohen's plan, the thousands of state and local employes involved in the local welfare programs would be made "agents" and eventually employees of the federal government.

According to tentative estimates prepared for the White House, the new program would cost approximately $4 billion more a year than present federal grants for welfare programs.

In an effort to gain support for his revolutionary plan, Cohen is privately telling state officials that his program would free state money for other purposes, reduce red tape, end disputes about eilgibility, and create uniform benefit standards.

As an added selling point, Cohen stresses that the program would slow down the rural-to-urban migration that is now increasing city problems, especially the movement of Negroes into industrial areas.

ALTHOUGH the details are still being worked out, Cohen is saying privately that his national welfare proposal would be combined with features of the negative income tax and the guaranteed annual wage.

The closest the HEW secretary has come so far to hinting in public at his new welfare plan was during the Sidney Hillman Lecture he delivered last month at the University of Minnesota.

Titled "The Emerging World of 1976," the Cohen speech forecast that "new and ingenious provisions" in Social Security, tax and welfare systems would enable the public and private sectors to assure a minimum income to all who work, and for all those who are too sick, too old or too young to work.

"The provision of an adequate income will change the role of social welfare agencies," he reported. "Welfare, relief and other categories will be eliminated from the vocabularies. State welfare agencies will become departments of social service or departments of individual family services. . . . "And these services will be available to every person in the community who chooses to use them."

Significantly, Cohen has turned over his proposals to Vice President Humphrey as well as the White House. Also, Cohen endorsed the Democratic front-runner before President Johnson put the lid on pre-convention politicking by cabinet members.

THE NEWLY FORMED Consumer Federation of America, a union of 56 national and state consumer groups, has decided to test its political strength in the 1968 presidential election.

Headed by Rev. Robert J. McEwen, S. J., chairman of the Boston College Department of Economics and a member of the President's Consumer Advisory Council, the new lobby organization has sent a letter to all presidential hopefuls asking them to express their veiws on a series of consumer affairs questions.

The sof-spoken Jesuit, who cites St. Thomas Aquinas' moral interest in economic as a historical precedent for his own deep involvement in the secular business of consumer protection, says his organization will present a complete consumer program to the platform committees at both national political conventions.

Things Are Buzzing In Tiburon —But Not Quite As Formerly

A calm seems to have fallen at last on the stormy issue of bees buzzing in the neighborhood of Ted Steiger at 10 St. Bernard Road, Tiburon.

According to a report by City Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, Steiger has agreed to reduce the number of hives on the property from 36 to eight.

There were petitions from neighbors who wanted the bees abated as a public nuisance. There were also petitions from residents who supported 15-year-old Bill Steiger's agricultural hobby and knew that he sometimes collected hives from unwanted locations for the county agricultural commissioner.

But the proliferation of bees was too heavy, the city council decided last week in considering an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would restrict the number of any small animals in residential zones.

Councilman Ellinwood figured that at the rate of 5,000 to 20,000 bees per hive, a possible total of 720,000 buzzing insects were involved.

NEW MAYOR William R. Bremer is working at his promise to shorten Tiburon City Council meetings. Last week's meeting concluded at 10:45 p.m., although the agenda included several items that involved public discussion.

Another healthy new trend in council meetings is that announcements have been forthcoming of committee meetings and other meetings which may be of interest to the public.

There have been some open forums on problems in downtown Tiburon, which were attended by merchants and citizens as well as city officials.

The public has been informed it is welcome to attend a committee meeting tomorrow in which Councilman Thomas E. Drohan and Mayor Bremer will discuss with Housing Authority Director Donald O. Stutsman some questions on the future of the Hilarita Housing site.

MOST OF THE questions from citizens stem from a group of Rolling Hills residents, who call themselves the "local zoning control committee," headed by Harold B. Wilde of 175 Round Hill Road.

Little Old Lady In Tennis Shoes Perfecting Serve Against Rocky

WASHINGTON — No one has heard from the Little Old Lady in Tennis Shoes this election year, although in 1964 she was Barry Goldwater's staunchest supporter and was quoted constantly during the entire campaign.

I was fortunate to run into her the other day on the street. Except for the fact she looked a little grayer and her shoes were a little more scuffed, she had changed little during Lyndon Johnson's years in office.

"Hello, Little Old Lady in Tennis Shoes," I said. "It's good to see you again."

"You say that every four years, but you never come to see me when there aren't any elections going on."

"I'll bet you have," she cackled. "You all laughed at me in 1964, but in your heart you know I was right."

"TELL ME, Little Old Lady in Tennis Shoes, what have you been doing for the past four years?"

"Perfecting my serve. When my man lost, I went back to tennis. I've never played better. You got time for a couple of sets? I've got my racket in my shopping bag here."

"Too bad. I could whip the pants off you."

"I know this is a personal question, but who are all the little old ladies in tennis shoes supporting this year?"

"Well, that Ronald Reagan seems like such a nice young man. He's no Barry Goldwater when it comes to thinking, but he dresses so neatly, and he's got such a sincere quality in his voice. I even liked him before he went into politics."

"You had to like him, then," I said.

"Reagan stands for God, home and country," she said, swinging her tennis racket for emphasis. "He believes in the American virtues that all of us hold dear."

"HOW DO YOU feel about Rockefeller?"

"That socialist? Do you know he tried to steal the nomination away from Barry Goldwater in 1964? He would have, if we hadn't booed him at the convention."

"Was that you tennis ladies booing Rockefeller?"

"How do you feel about Nixon?"

She paused in the middle of a swing. "Old Tricky Dicky. We tennis shoe people liked the old Nixon. The new Nixon gets on our nerves. If we have to go that route we will, but it's the last time."

"YOU WOULDN'T consider supporting a Democrat, would you?"

You must be kidding," she said. "I wouldn't even play one doubles."

"Look, Sonny, we little old ladies in tennis shoes have very high standards. We're not going to throw our vote away on leftist, pinko, deficit spenders who want to fluoridate our drinking water. You sure you don't have time for one set?"

"I wish I did," I said regretfully, "but I have to get back to the office."

"You bet your sweet life you will, Sonny," she said, jumping over an imaginary net to shake my hand. "And this time we're going to give it to Rockefeller good. Those Eastern Establishment socialists just never learn."

Corte Madera Flood Contract Is Awarded

A $2,513,508 contract for flood protection work on Corte Madera Creek was awarded today to Elmer J. Freethy, El Cerrito contractor, by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The contract, second in a series of three and which is to be completed by Oct. 1, 1969, calls for construction of 4,000 feet of earth channel and 2,000 feet of concrete channel on the creek.

Preservation and, where possible, enhancement of the natural environment will be a major consideration of the contractor in performing the work, Col. Frank C. Boerger, San Francisco, district engineer, said.

The contract specifies wooden guards for protection of members of the species of acacia, eucalyptus, elm and lombardy popular to be preserved. About three-fourths of the trees in the area will be saved, Boerger said. Additional will be done.

When parts of the roots of one of these trees must be cut for the channel, tree surgeons will remove branches necessary to preserve the tree's health, Boerger explained.

Tree walls, or rock casings to prevent injury and provide air space, will be used when necessary.

An additional 2,000-foot concrete channel will be built to control flows on Tamalpais Creek according to present plans. This work, however, will not be done before 1969 in order to continue environmental studies which could lead to differing construction methods, according to Boerger.

Great Salt Lake in Utah was discovered by two trappers, James Bridger and Etienne Provost in 1824, while searching for beavers.

Bales Believes Three Marin Death Sentences Will Stand

The Marin County death sentences given three men now on San Quentin's condemned row will not be overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court because this county does not automatically exclude jurors opposed to the death penalty, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today.

Bales said he believes the death sentences will stand for Armando Sanchez, 36, a convict convicted of killing San Quentin shop foreman Ralph Channing, 54, April 23, 1965; and Jack Gorman, 39, and Marc Osuna, convicted of killing Mario Ferrari, 52, a bartender in a stickup at the Mission Inn, San Rafael, on Labor Day, 1965.

Bales said that for the past several years, superior court judges in Marin have not been allowing prosecutors to challenge for cause a prospective juror who merely states that he is opposed to the death penalty.

"A juror is excused only when he states flatly that he will under no circumstances vote for the death penalty," said Bales. Persons "generally opposed" to the penalty have served on Marin juries, he said.

The U.S. Supreme Court on Monday overturned the conviction of William C. Witherspoon, 42, who was sentenced to death in Illinois for killing a Chicago policeman, Mitchell Stone, in 1959. The Supreme Court, in a 5-4 decision, declared the jury that convicted Witherspoon was "stacked" because persons opposed to the death penalty were automatically excluded from the jury.

In California capital cases are tried in two phases. One trial decides the guilt or innocence of the defendant and a second decides the penalty.

Bales said a person opposed to the death penalty would be "biased" as a jury prospect in the penalty phase, but not necessarily so in the guilt or innocence phase. However, both phases are tried by the same jury, he pointed out.

Duties Of Free Port System

CHICAGO (AP) — In-transit property now is protected by "free port" laws in 35 states from property tax assessment.

Commerce Clearing House, a tax law authority, said the free port provision also applies in the District of Columbia.

The net effect is to eliminate double taxation on firms selling and shipping goods across the country. Without such laws, companies selling and shipping goods across state lines are confronted not only with the possibility of multistate income and sales taxes, but also with the possibility of multistate property taxes.

Incumbents Keep Jobs In Sanitary District

The successful incumbents were Edwin Grundstrom Jr. and Carlos Rivamonte. Grundstrom got 4,565 votes, and Rivamonte got 3,421.

GOP Committeemen Re-Elected

All incumbents were re-elected in contests in three districts for the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

In the First District incumbents Charles I. Daniels Jr., 5,697 votes; Morton R. Colvin, 5,247; William S. Richards 5,037; Elizabeth G. Rowen, 4,991; and Mary D. Lee, 4,586, were re-elected. Challenger John A. Miskimen received 3,940 votes.

In the Second District, incumbents James McNab with 4,826 votes; Matthew A. Graham, 4,770; Rodgers C. Broomhead, 4,724; Charles Michals, 4,450, and Gerald E. Misner, 4,132, were re-elected.

The voting for the challengers were Grant J. Halsing, 2,657; Howard R. Onstott, 2,217, and Frank M. Sloan, 2,109.

In the Fourth District incumbents Alfred J. Bianchi with 3,127 votes; Frank P. Myer, 2,962, and Harry Diner, 2,748 votes were re-elected.

The fourth seat open in the district was won by Jane King Fairchild with 2,039 votes. Challengers Eric W. Lane with 1,878 and Paul R. Eastman with 1,516 votes trailed.

There were no contests in the Third and Fifth districts.

Demo Incumbents Returned

In the First District, incumbent Gary W. Thomas was re-elected, and Joseph D. Dahlman, Charles W. Pierce, Frank Solomon Jr. and Richard H. Breiner were elected to fill vacant seats. The only loser of the six candidates was John E. Cascone.

Water Board Challenger Loses

Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito, incumbent, Division 5, director on the Marin Municipal Water District board, defeated his only challenger, Arthur L. Crebassa of Tamalpais Valley.

Anderson got 6,817 votes, or 76.1 per cent, and Crebassa got 2,318 votes.

Marin City Votes Unseat Two

The winners in the contest for two seats were Dorethea Mitchell, community worker, and Frank J. Phillips Sr., barber.

Muir Beach Incumbent Loses

Two challengers won over incumbent Jack F. Harris in a three-way battle for two seats on the Muir Beach Community Services District board.

Elected were Richard C. Bain Jr., a civil engineer, who received 43 votes, and Jamshid Bakhtiar, who received 41 votes. Harris ran third with 25 votes.

Daughter Asked To Call Mother

A 15-year-old San Anselmo girl, who has been missing from her home since May 20, is being urged by her mother to call home, according to San Anselmo police.

Sandra Mary McClelland of 147 Humboldt Avenue was reported missing by her mother, Mrs. Stella McClelland, two days after she disappeared, police said.

The girl is described as 5 feet, 5 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and having long back hair and brown eyes.

Bids Opened On Bodega Bay Job

The Army Corps of Engineers yesterday opened three bids, ranging from $105,105 to $249,450, on its Bodega Bay maintenance dredging job which the government estimated should cost $87,420.

The low bid was submitted by Shellmaker, Inc., of San Francisco. Marine Construction Inc. of Richmond bid $145,590. The highest bid was submitted by West Coast Dredging Co. of Martinez.

Russell L. Solomon, civilian chief of the supply division for the corps, said that the bid will probably be awarded within a week.

Marinite Receives Biochemestry Medal

Dr. Swingle, who is employed at the U.S. Naval Radiological Laboratory in San Francisco, received the award for his research into radiation biochemistry.

Forty-seven cases of strep infection were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Other communicable disease reports included 27 cases of gonorrhea, five of mumps, three of infectious hepatitis, two of syphilis and one of salmonella.

Sausalito Council Backs Bridge Bills

The Sausalito City Council last night gave its endorsement to several bills in the Legislature which would solve the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and set up a new governing body for the bridge.

It unanimously approved a bill which would give the Bridge and Highway District directors power to issue revenue bonds. The council also voted against a bill which would dissolve the Bridge and Highway District, but place the bridge administration in the hands of the California Toll Bridge Authority..

Two bills to which the council gave its firmest endorsement have been introduced into the State Legislature by Rep. William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael. Both would dissolve the district, one creating a Golden Gate Authority to replace it and the other a San Francisco-Marin Transit District.

In transmitting their approval of the bills to the Legislature, the Sausalito councilmen said Marin County should have more representation on a new bridge governing board, than the present two members.

In another action, the councilmen voted $200 to the Sausalito Recreation Commission to make a study of the uses for a barge which would be docked at the foot of Litho Street and used as a community recreation center. One barge which the recreation commission has looked at is in Alameda and is for sale at $6,000.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

APPOINTMENTS — Appointed Mary Lindheim as the city's nominee to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, and Teruo Iyama to the Community Appearance Advisory Board.

WIDENING — Rejected the objections of Main Street residents to widening of the street. The project has been budgeted on four occasions.

EXCAVATION — Decided to have the city building inspector take another look at a cut for a residence to be built in the 500 block of Sausalito Boulevard. Evert H. Heynneman, who lives at 543 Sausalito Boulevard, declared the excavation will undermine his residence.

LIMOUSINE — Took under advisement an application from Joseph Ross of San Francisco, who wants to operate a limousine service between Sausalito and the San Francisco Airport. The council directed City Manager George M. Patterson to look into the need for another limousine in Sausalito.

CODE — Voted $105 as the city's share of preparation of uniform constructions standards for the county's cities. The code, covering construction items of a general nature, is being prepared by the Marin Public Works Association.

ORDINANCES — Approved ordinances raising the hotel occupancy tax from four to five cents, and increasing the parking fee from 20 to 25 cents an hour at municipal lot number 1, near the Trade Fair ferry.

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—A noodle factory in Hilo has come out with an appetizer called "Arare Twist." Among the ingredients are corn starch, vegetable oil, ammonium chloride, and bicarbonate of soda.

Museum To Buy Priceless Items

HONOLULU (AP) — The Bishop Museum of Honolulu has raised enough money through contributions to purchase a rare Hawaiian feather cloak and helmet and bring them home from Scotland.

The treasured artifacts have been in the private possession of the Earls of Elgin since 1792.

The museum association launched a campaign about two months ago for $30,000 to buy the Hawaiian items.

San Francisco Bonds Win Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $24 million bond issue to renovate San Francisco's main thoroughfare of Market Street has won the approval of the voters.

Returns also showed early today that a $14.8 million bond issue to finance 28 new recreation and park projects gained passage in yesterday's balloting In addition, a measure liberalizing retirement benefits for the city's police and firemen was adopted.

But a $5.7 million measure to acquire the Cliff House and the Sutro Baths site as a park was defeated.

Churchmen Get Job Help List

Parishioners of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere have received with the weekly church bulletin a list of Marin City and Hilarita Housing residents who are seeking jobs.

The list gives addresses and telephone numbers of the persons and the kind of jobs they are seeking. Their services include carpentry, heavy duty work, hauling, gardening, cleaning, electrical work and plumbing.

The church also seeks to raise funds for the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

Paid Demonstrations Out For Rebublicans

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)— Republicans were agreed today to allow bands and balloons to liven up "spontaneous" demonstrations for candidates at the GOP national convention, but banned paid demonstrators.

Completing arrangements for the Miami meeting which starts Aug. 5, the Republican National Committee confirmed Gov. Dan Evans of Washington as keynoter, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, GOP House leader, as permanent chairman, and U.S. Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, as temporary chairman.

There was one sour note. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who made a flying trip to Portland to urge an "open" convention, sharply criticized the appointment of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader, as the single chairman of the platform committee.

He said it was a "great mistake" for national chairman Ray Bliss to reject the request of Republican governors that Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer be named co-chairman. Bliss defended the appointment on the ground that "someone has to be in charge" and it was not challenged as arrangements for the convention were completed.

Under the final arrangements, bands and balloons for demonstrations are in, but paid demonstrators are out. Previously, the arrangements committee had approved a report that only delegates and alternates would be allowed on the floor to cheer for the man whose name was being placed in nomination at the convention.

The rule change, designed to add "decorum and dignity" to the convention, banished the cheer leaders and drum majorettes who would parade into the convention hall to keep a demonstration going for a candidate.

The arrangements committee backtracked to the extent of allowing each demonstration to have one 50-man band or two 25-man bands to help with the hoopla. Those who march with the band will move to be bona fide delegates or alternates.

The reform committee had warned that if the convention were "stripped of all its glitter" it could become "incredibly uninteresting and dull." The arrangements committee took the warning to heart and agreed to allow traditional balloons to be released during a demonstration.

The arrangements committee also rejected a suggestion to ban newsmen from the convention floor. It decided, however, to cut about in half the number of news passes allowed.

Most of the national Committee members and state chairmen, in Portland for the windup arrangements meeting, believed that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was far out in front for the presidential nomination, but did not have it locked up.

Police Picket Haunted House

JAMNAGAR, India (AP) — Police pickets have been posted outside a house to guard "some evil spirits" residing there, from human beings.

Police action followed a violent incident when people collected outside the house and threw stones at the windows in an attempt to drive out the evil spirits.

The occupants of the house have shifted elsewhere to avoid both the spell of the evil spirits and the stones of the people wanting to drive them out.

It is believed that a small fire in the house which no one could explain created the rumor that evil spirits had taken over.

Drysdale Pitches His Way Into Record Book

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Six straight shutout games . . . 54 consecutive scoreless innings . . . a major league record . . . it belonged today to the Los Angeles Dodgers' brilliant right-hander, Don Drysdale.

The 31-year-old Drysdale, as strong at the finish as he was at the start, turned in the three-hit, 5-0 victory last night against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The feat broke the big league record which had stood since 1904 when an old-timer named Doc White, now 89 and living in Silver Spring, Md., pitched five in a row for the Chicago White Sox.

En route over the Pirates, Drysdale erased the National League record for scoreless innings—46 1-3 by Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants in 1933.

The major league record is 56, achieved by Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators in 1913.

Drysdale can aim at that one when, as he said he would, take his next regular turn on the mound against the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday night in Dodger Stadium.

There were 30,422 fans in the stadium last night to see if Big D could do the seeming impossible.

Actually, Don made the impossible look almost easy. He struck out eight batters and only one ball for an out was hit out of the infield.

Meanwhile, as the Dodgers won their fourth of the past five games and 10th of the last 16, Don's teammates went on—for them—a virtual hitting rampage. They got eight.

They also gave Drysdale something more than the usual 1-0 margin to work out. The Dodgers scored three runs on three hits and a throwing error by pitcher Jim Bunning in the fourth inning. West Parker hammered his second home run of the year in the sixth and the Dodgers added the fifth run in the seventh.

"Yes, there was a lessening of tension after the second inning," Drysdale said. He referred to the second when a pitched ball struck Manny Mota on the top of the helmet. Mota dropped to the ground but finished the inning before being removed from the line-up.

The pesky Wills singled with two out in the ninth to send emotions swirling. But Willie Stargell tapped the ball to Popovich, who threw him out.

"Was I nervous? well, no," said Popovich. "But I was

Double-Decker Bus To Cart The Fans

Then, a Southern California firm purchased the London Bridge to be disassembled piece by piece and shipped to this country where it will be reassembled as another major tourist attraction.

And now, would you believe a double-decker London bus tooling along the Marin highways? I say, now.

Yep, Shawn Wiltshire of the Wiltshire Tower Motel in San Rafael came up with that brainstorm recently and contacted the British firm that specializes in selling the famous buses. A day later Wiltshire was advised the bus was on its way to the docks and would leave Britain on June 8.

Wiltshire plans to use the scarlet doubledecker to take parties to Giant and 49er games—and won't THAT cause some double-takes all along the highways!

Tea and crumpets at KEZAR!?

Now The Men Are Doing It

SAY IT ISN'T SO — I've been trying to hide this item. It kills me to see it in print. On the sports page, yet! I hope the girlie golfers don't read it or they'll needle me right out of the Bogey Brigade.

I refer to a recent tournament played by the Mill Valley MEN'S Golf Club. Shhh, don't breather a word of this to a soul, but the men played a "String Tournament." Eeek!

You remember the String Tournament, don't you? Not long ago I chided the women golfers of our county for the silly handicap tournaments they played, silliest of which was this string thing. Each player receives a piece of string as long as his handicap—one foot for each stroke—and uses the string to lengthen any shot until the string runs out.

Until the Mill Valley men shocked me recently, I thought this was strictly a feminine fairway fancy, a stringer in the rough.

May Revolutionize The Game

Next, I can expect the Mill Valley men's club to come up with a Throw Out Three Holes Tournament, a Big and Little BROTHER Tournament and a Three Little Pigs classic.

And, on the PGA tour we might discover Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus teaming up in a T and F Tournament, and please don't ask me to explain THAT little gem.

At last count the Giants' Bay Area Boosters Club had 165 fans enrolled for the tour to the Houston Astrodome next month. Contact Paul Hartman at GTS Travel, San Rafael, for details . . . Veteran Continues To Win In British Amateur Golf

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Former champions Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., and Mike Bonallack of England scored second round victories and then started third round play today in the British Amateur Golf Championship.

The 56-year-old Sweeny, winner of the title in 1937, beat John Behrend of England ,2 and 1, on a sunny but breezy morning on the Troon course. The 7,130 yard layout has a par of 36-37—73.

The third round play, expected to be completed today, will cut the field to 32.

"I don't drink much," he said. "I smoke about 20 cigarettes a day. I used to play golf in Florida in the winter but now I don't.

"Instead I go skiing. My daughters, Sharon and Brenda, are at school in Switzerland so every winter I join them there in the mountains and that keeps me fit."

Other Americans still in the field include Frank Strafaci of Miami, playing in his 17th British Amateur at the age of 52; Woodward Millen of Piping Rock, N.Y., and Mark McCormack, the Cleveland attorney who usually is on the championship courses as manager of top professionals such as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Others are Bob Falkenberg of Los Angeles and Brazil, Warren Vanderbush of Closter, N.J., Ed Meister of Cleveland, John Matheny of Fort Worth, Tex., A. Peterson Jr. of Desert Forest, Ariz., Bob Seylor of Westbrook, Ohio, Harry McCallum of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Pete Jacobi of New York.

Dick Chapman, a former champion, and Don Givens, believed to be the first Negro ever to compete in the 83-year-old tournament, were eliminated yesterday.

Second-round winners yesterday included McCormack, Vanderbush, Falkenberg, Meister and Matheny. The other surviving Americans all won first-round matches.

McCormack beat Ed Easson of England 1-up, Vanderbush topped Jim Lower of England 2 and 1, Falkenberg beat A.N.G. Brown of Scotland on the 19th hole, Meister beat Ted Davies of Wales 1-up and Matheny eliminated Jim Neilan of Scotland 2 and 1.

Remember Sam Snead?

How about Bruce Summerhays and Ernie George?

Summerhays and Gearge are at least a generation removed from Snead, but the three had something in common yesterday — all of them qualified for the 1968 U.S. Open Gold Tournament scheduled next week at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N. Y.

Summerhays, assistant pro at San Francisco's Olympic Club, and George, head pro at Kings Country Club in Hanford, fired even-par 36-hole totals of 144, at Napa's Silverado Country Club to join Ken Towns (147), as San Francisco region qualifiers for the U.S. Open.

A MISSION

If ever a man had a mission in life, it's Snead, a veteran of over 30 years on the golf links, who has won every major title associated with the sport, with the exception of the most coveted of all, the U.S. Open.

Snead, the man with the picture swing, has come close on four occasions, but each time he had to settle for runner-up honors, beginning in 1937 and then again in 1947, 49 and 53.

The slammer from White Sulphur, W. Va., reached a low point in his career last year when he failed to qualify for the Open, but opportunity has presented itself again in the form of a place in the 150-man field for this year's Open.

Snead survived a seven-man playoff for the three remaining spots in the sectional at Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday, where Sam Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., (71-63) and John Licely, Jr., (64-70) shared medalist honors with 36-hole scores of 134.

Snead posted rounds of 69-73 for a 142 that qualified him for a sudden-death playoff with six others for the last three spots. Advancing with Snead in the playoff were John Lotz, Hayward, Calif., and Bob McCallister, Lake Arrowhead, Calif.

Three former Open champs, Gene Little (1961), Ed Furgol (1954) and Lew Worsham (1947) were among those failing to qualify for this year's tourney in yesterday's sectionals held at eight sites around the country.

Littler's 144 at Bakersfield, Calif., was one stroke off the score needed to qualify for one of five places. Ted Makalena of Honolulu led the Bakersfield qualifiers with 69-71—140.

FURGOL OUT

Furgol didn't even come close at Montclair, N.J., where he shot a 150 compared to the 147 cutoff point. Pat Schwab, West Orange, N.J., led the Montclair contingent of 19 with 71-70—141.

Former Australian star Bruce Devlin, now playing out of Pompano Beach, Fla., led 14 qualifiers at Pittsburgh.

Gonzales Outwits Emerson In French Tennis Tourney

PARIS (AP) —Pancho Gonzales, 40-year-old professional from Los Angeles, outwitted Roy Emerson, Australian professional, 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, today and moved into the semifinal round of men's singles in the French Open Tennis Tournament.

Emerson, pitting his speed against Gonzales' guile reeled off six games out of seven to take the second set and level at two sets all.

The final set saw Gonzales at his best. He broke Emerson's service in the first game, sprinting from the baseline to the net to pick up a drop and then catching Emerson wrong-footed with an angled volley.

That one service break was enough. Emerson never got to deuce after that.

Several pros had to fight for their lives and one of the greatest upsets in the history of the sport was narrowly averted yesterday.

Ion Tiriac, a Romanian amateur, captured the first two sets from Rod Laver, king of the pros. But Tiriac tired, and Laver pulled out a 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-0 victory.

"For the first time in my life I was tired during a match," said Tiriac. "He made me run about so much. How could I ever have thought I would beat a man like that!"

Tiriac had the crowd of 6,000 at Roland Garros Stadium in an uproar. Varying the pace from shot to shot, the Romanian forced the left-handed Laver into volleying errors and broke him in the seventh game of the opening set and twice more in the second set.

The final point of the first set came when Laver's shot nicked the top of the net. Tiriac threw himself full-length on the red shale court and got up with red dust all over his clothes and blood running down his right leg. The ball, however, landed outside the line.

Junior Football Signups Saturday

Signups for the Redwood Junior Giants of the Marin County Pop Warner Football Conference will be held Saturday, 9-11 a.m., at Redwood High School gymnasium, Coach Mike Robert announced today.

Warner football is for boys 11 through 13 years of age.

What A Difference One Week Makes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — What a difference a few weeks make. And if you don't believe, check the San Francisco Giants.

Last Wednesday the Giants had just beaten the St. Louis Cardinals for the second straight night and were solidly atop the National League pack with a one and one-half game lead.

Today, licking their wounds on the heels of their fifth loss in the last six games, the Giants were in fourth place with "June swoon" echoes bouncing off the walls in Candlestick Park.

HUMBLE

The Philadelphia Phillies humbled the local residents for a second straight time last night, 5-1, as Larry Jackson "lucked" his way to his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Mike McCormick, a tough luck loser to the Los Angeles Dodgers his last time out, was rocked for two runs in the first inning on a single by Cookie Rojas and John Callison's seventh homer. As things turned out, that was all the help Jackson needed, although Willie McCovey caught up to him for his 10th homer in the second and at least a dozen Giants shots wound up right at Philadelphia fielders.

LOOSE PLAY

The Phils also capitalized on loose play in the field by the Giants to pick up a pair of unearned runs. About all they did was make it that much easier for Jackson to go the route, although he gave up only four hits, and forced the Giants into catchup ball.

After Callison unloaded his homer the Giants never were in the game. The Phils picked up their third run in the top of the second on the first of three singles by Tony Taylor, a sacrifice and Jackson's bouncer to short which Hal Lanier threw wildly past first.

400-FOOT BLAST

McCovey's homer—a 400 foot towering shot over the right center field fence, made it 3-1 in the second. The Giants put a runner on third with one out in both the fifth and sixth innings but couldn't get either across.

With that kind of "support" Jackson plodded along and went on to pitch only his third complete game of the season and boost the Phillies past the Giants into third place by four percentage points.

Not that he needed any more help but the Phils got Jackson two more runs in the eighth on a single by Tony Gonzalez, a double by Rojas, an intentional walk to Callison and a fielder's choice grounder to first which McCovey threw into left field trying to head off Callison at second.

PINCH HITTER

McCormick went out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and took his seventh loss in 11 decisions with him to the showers.

A's Have To Pay Bill For Epstein's Party

The much-publicized former University of California athlete was sent down by Washington to the International League when his batting average stayed below .100. But he belted five homers and hit .400 so the Senators called him back up.

The big slugger whacked a two-run homer in his return last night to lead the Senators to a 4-2 win over Oakland. Washington fans' dreams of having the league's best power one-two punch in Frank Howard and Epstein could yet come true.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Washington's Joe Coleman were locked in a 2-2 battle before Epstein's shot. Oakland had scored on errors and timely hits by Ted Kubiak.

HUNTER NOW 5-4

Trader Lane Calls A's A Dynasty In Diapers

OAKLAND — The man they call The Trader spent a week at the Oakland Coliseum watching the A's and, more to his liking, talking baseball into any available ear.

Frank Lane took over as the game's master personnel dealer when Branch Rickey grew too old to be cunning. Lane, now a super scout with Baltimore, was a genius general manager with the post war White Sox—dealing for such as Nellie Fox, Billie Pierce, Chico Carresquel, Minnie Minoso. He turned what had been a drab club into an outfit that competed with the Yankees for excitement in those days. Lane's Pale Hose were the forerunners of many "Go-Go" clubs.

HE HAD a theory about personnel—particularly that on a second-rate outfit. Keep wheeling and dealing, he believed. Bring in some new faces—some of them might work out, then the fans might turn out.

Wherever he was G.M. (St. Louis, Cleveland and even the Kansas City A's in later years), The Trader ran a "three team" operation: one coming, one going, one on the field.

HE ALWAYS pursued the theory of trading "nothing for nothing." One never knew when a guy who'd been nothing on another club would shine for Lane's; Fox, for example.

Other times, The Trader traded just for the fun of it. When Bill Veeck had the old St. Louis Browns, he and Lane would meet once a fortnight and trade a good-field, no-hit shortstop named Willie Miranda. There exists today a foot path between the eastern shore of the Mississippi River and the banks of Lake Michigan known to cartographers as the Miranda Trail.

ALL HISTORY now; Lane is a septuagenarian, the Hickey of his day. This time, no replacement stands by.

Still, The Trader must be permitted his judgments. The A's, he says, may be a dynasty in diapers. One solid slugger is all they need to make a fight for the pennant. Others, of course, have said this. Others, of course, would like one solid slugger in a league that has very few.

BUT FRANK has other Athletic refinements in mind: Platoon Ramon Webster and Joe Rudi at first, he says. He sees Rudi as a potential big hitter but inadequate defensively in left field. And Webster, benched for poor hitting, has sufficient bat potental and speed to be used. "He did hit okay (.256) for the A's last year," observes Lane. "He'll come around."

That leaves veteran Danny Cater for use in left—where he started the season before being shifted to first. Remember that Mr. Lane likes constant movement.

HE FEELS the A's have fine gate potential with this young, rather unknown (before their arrival anyway) club. Lane's logic is open to debate.

"Look at my club, the Orioles. Why you can blindfold any spectator in our park and they can describe what most of our players are doing on any given play. And they'll be right. They've been looking at guys like Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell and Davey Johnson for years. It's even the same with Frank Robinson, who's only been with us a couple of years. Everything's too familiar.

"BUT WITH the A's, you've got all fresh faces, a lot of unexpected plays and thrills. The fans will go for that, I'm sure."

According to the Lane fan psychology formula, then the A's should dump Bando, Hunter, Campy, Monday and Kubiak as soon as—and if—they master their trade.

This ascension to efficiency should, considering the youth of these A's, take a few years; by which time the fans will have grown weary of their "familiarity."

One of the several reasons why the A's aren't packing 'em in is the club's basic anonymity. Sure, there are those chauvinistic Oaklanders who want to be "in" on the creation of one or more stars. They, and the one-night curious, account for most of the 12,000 or so average crowd for the A's 27 home dates.

A FAMILIAR ballplayer or two (either Brooks or Frank Robinson would be just fine) might swell that attendance figure.

Lane wouldn't be trying to con Charlie Finley out of a young ballplayer (Kubiak, according to rumor) with reverse logic, would he? No, not good old Frank. Why he's always acted with admirable candor in any player negotiation. Sure he has.

Gary Beban Still Unsigned

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League have landed one draft choice, but the big one, Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban is still not in tow.

The Rams announced yesterday that Beban had rejected an offer from the club to sign a contract. The former UCLA star quarterback and first round draft choice of the Rams has made his own offer to the team through an attorney.

But the club did sign Mike LaHood an offensive lineman from the University of Wyoming who was the club's second round pick.

Some Hot Hitting In Coast League

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tulsa's Jim Hicks still leads a red-hot Pacific Coast League race that finds four men over .350.

Hicks is belting at a .392 clip and also is tops in hits (58), total bases (100) and runs scored (33).

The other heavy hitters include Walt Williams of Hawaii at .380, Nate Colbert of Oklahoma City at .374 and Bobby Bonds of Phoenix at .357.

John Werhas of San Diego leads in runs batted in with 39 and doubles with 15 while Jim Beauchamp of Indianapolis has not hit a homer in several weeks but still leads with 9.

Quarry Rescued In Pacific Ocean

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif.(AP) — Heavyweight boxer Jerry Quarry and his brother-in-law were rescued from the Pacific Ocean by a surfer on a borrowed surfboard.

Quarry, 23, and William Paulino, 23, were swimming yesterday when they were caught in rough seas 200 yards off shore. Quarry had gone under water several times, apparently with cramps.

The surfer, Randy La Dow, 21, paddled to the floundering men on a borrowed surfboard after Quarry's brother Mike, 17, had swum to shore seeking help.

Firemen and lifeguards administered oxygen to Quarry and Paulino on the beach. Later they were listed in good condition at Hoag Memorial Hospital.

Hurdler May Get His Chance

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Richmond Flowers said today his leg injury is still quite painful, but he was encouraged by a report he might get a shot at the U.S. Olympic track team without competing in the trials.

The internationally known University of Tennessee hurdler suffered a hamstring muscle strain in his right thigh Sunday while running speed sprints.

Flowers said he was encouraged by a statement by the chairman of the nation's track and field committee, Hilmer Lodge, that he and other outstanding athletes hit by injury or illness might get a chance to make the Olympic team without running in the trials scheduled in Los Angeles June 28-29.

Lodge said in Los Angeles the committee might invoke the unfairness rule and permit Flowers and other injured athletes to bypass the trials and compete in the final high-altitude tests at South Lake Tahoe starting Sept. 15.

Griffith Hoping To Prove Himself

OAKLAND (AP) —Emile Griffith, 1-2 in his middleweight championship fights with current titleholder Nino Benvenuti, will try to prove he deserves yet a fourth fight with the Italian when he takes on promising Andy Heilman in a 12-round bout in the Oakland Arena Friday night.

Heilman, 27 from Los Angeles via Selz, N.D., is currently rated fifth on the World Boxing Association's list of contenders and has a record of 40 victories, 21 by knockouts, and just three defeats.

It is possible that Benvenuti's managers will agree to a title fight with the winner. Major stumbling block is Benvenuti's current asking price of $175,000.

Griffith is a 9-5 favorite despite the fact that he will be giving away up to six pounds. Heilman figures to come in right at the 160-pound limit, while Griffith weighed 154½ his last time out against Benvenuti.

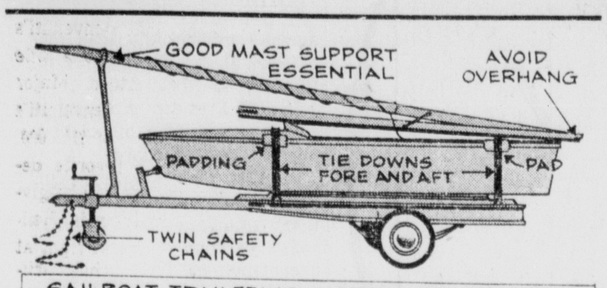
BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

The Boat-Trailer Way To Greater Efficiency



SAILBOAT TRAILERING—USE TIE DOWNS FORE AND AFT; HAVE GOOD MAST SUPPORT; WATCH OVER-ALL LENGTH.

There's a boat club on the shores of China Lake, with about 200 members. They are very ardent boaters . . . both power and sail. They have one problem. China Lake hasn't had any water in it for a couple of million years. It's in the desert.

How do these ardent boaters maintain their interest? With boat trailers, of course, the same as 3.5 million other Americans.

And China Lake boaters are luckier than some; they are only 70 miles away from the closest boating water. Some trailer boaters have to go twice that distance.

But don't feel sorry for the skipper who keeps his boat berthed in the garage or backyard. A lot of them prefer it this way. They can pick and choose their waterways.

IN A RECENT survey conducted by the Outdoor Boating Club of America, an overwhelming 70 per cent of the respondents said that launching ramps — not marinas or docks — are the most urgently needed boating facilities.

It's a fact that many boating facilities on the drawing boards today allow more space for parking cars and trailers than they do for mooring craft in the water.

Trailers are changing, too; more are being designed to match a specific boat or hull shape. Many, many more are being built for sailboats, particularly the kind of light, speedy sailing craft with centerboards or retractable fin keels that are becoming popular.

IT'S NOT harder to trailer a sailboat than a power boat and the same basic rule for selecting a trailer still applies. Make sure the trailer fits the boat. Don't get a trailer which is too small, too short or too narrow. Make sure the boat has adequate support so that it will maintain the shape the naval architect built into it.

There's one major thing to look for in a sailboat trailer and that's a good mast chock or similar device for holding the mast while underway on the road.

Imagine the terrifying possibilities of a 20-foot mast breaking loose while you are belting along the highway at 60 mph. Another thing, with the long mast, don't let it protrude over the stern too far or it may increase the over-all length of the car and trailer beyond the legal limit. In most states this is 50 feet, but it's wise to check your own state law and the laws of other neighboring states in which you might operate.

Q. Can I tow a Snipe class sailboat behind a small English car?

A. Yes. The British, long familiar with small cars, have a formula for figuring safe trailer weight. The total of all — car, trailer and all loads — should not exceed twice the car's empty weight. For example, if a car weights 1,500 pounds empty and two passengers and baggage weigh 300 pounds, (total is 1,800 pounds), it means that the trailer, with its load, can weigh 1,200 pounds to reach the allowable over-all weight of 3,000 pounds. The Snipes weighs 430 pounds, its trailer about 300 pounds.

Q. How strong must trailer safety chains be? How do I find out?

A. It will be set out in your state highway traffic law. Usually the description of the safety chains says that they must be strong enough so that the trailer will be held if the primary connection to the car is broken.

Q. Are one or two chains required?

A. Your state, Colorado, requires only one safety chain, but several western states require none at all — Wyoming, New Mexico, Montana, Arizona, Alaska, for example.

Q. Is it all right to carry camping gear in the boat?

A. Generally speaking, carry as little as possible in the boat when you are hauling it on a trailer. First, you don't want weight back there . . . It makes the rig less stable. Secondly, it puts strain on the boat hull. This may not matter in fiberglass hulls, but in light wood sailing hulls, the damage can be appreciable if the road is rough. Leaks will result.

Q. I'm told that sailboats break loose from trailers more easily than power boats. Is it true?

A. I think it has been true in the past because people were learning to adapt trailers to the different shapes of sailing craft. There is one thing, most power boats on trailers have tie-downs only at the stern, depending on the winch line to keep the bows down . . . but experienced sail-trailerboaters recommend tying down a sailboat at the front as well as the back . . . particularly if it has any kind of overhang.

Lunn Moves Into Top 10 List On Golf Tour

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Lunn, who picked up $23,000 Sunday, moved into the top 10 money winners in professional golf yesterday with a total of $57,931, good for sixth place.

Two weeks ago, the 23-year-old Californian had never won a tournament. He picked up his big first check at the Memphis Open and came back Sunday to win the Atlanta Classic.

Billy Casper easily led with $104,243.54, followed by Tom Weiskopf with $85,552.89 and George Archer with $83,146.89. Miller Barber was in fourth place with $68,029.80; George Knudson, fifth with $60,230.84.

Hiller Placed On Waivers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates placed infielder Chuck Hiller on waivers Sunday and recalled infielder Freddie Joe Patek from Columbus.

Patek, 22, was batting .294 and leading the International League in stolen bases with 12.

Hiller, 32, who also has played for San Francisco, the New York Mets and Philadelphia, had five hits in 12 at-bats for the Pirates, including a double in Sunday's second game against Atlanta.

Star Swimmers At Petaluma Meet

A number of Olympic Games candidates will be on display in Petaluma this weekend to compete in a Senior Development Swim Meet sanctioned by the Pacific Association, Samateu Athletic Union.

The field will include 168 entries from the famed Santa Clara Swim Club, including such world and national champions as Claudia Kolb, Mark Spitz, Pokey Watson, Lynn Vivaldi and Ray Rivero.

This will be the first 50-meter outdoor senior development meet of the year. More than 650 entries from 16 teams will participate.

Competition starts at 7 p.m. Friday, 9 a.m. Saturday and 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the Petaluma community pool, 900 East Washington Street.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

As you take your stance, support the ball by allowing it to rest on the palm of your left hand. The right hand does nothing more than grip the ball comfortably at this point. Most bowlers will hold the ball about waist high, which is the most natural position. Never start by allowing the right hand to hang free as it holds the ball.

11 Young Swimmers Make Class A Times

Michele Pia and Tom Anderson were double winners. Other youngsters making Class A times were Eric Humber, Pete Locati, Steve Blake, Paul Cain, Jeanne Burner, Nanette Guthrie and Sue Shelly and Tammy Secondo.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Looks Like Seasonal Run Of Striped Bass Has Begun

STEVENS

Fishing success seems to be a matter of geography. For example, Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson Boat, Bait and Tackle Shop in Oakland, reported: "The big news, Ralph, is the action with striped bass. No one spot that produced, but a half dozen from Red Rock, San Bruno Flats, the area around the airport and in the San Pablo Bay along the rock wall and other spots. It sure looks as though the seasonal run of stripers has begun at last."

I asked Hal if there was any improvement in salmon trolling outside the Gate. "It has been from fair to good with salmon. The boats working out of here the last few days have averaged from one to one-and-half per rod." Hal also reported that late evening trolling in the upper San Pablo Bay has paid off to the chosen few aboard the boats out of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett.

Boenner mentioned the really exceptional fly-rod fishing for shad in the Yuba area. "Hundreds of shad have been caught the past few days, and the old timers maintain that the run will last for probably another month."

To further check on salmon and bass fishing, I spoke to Tony Caruso, of the Sausalito boat headquarters. He also reported fair to good action —an average of one to one-and-a-half fish to the rod. Fastest action was had southeast of the Farallones. Best catch on Saturday seems to have been by the Sea Sport — 25 salmon to 15 pounds, a mixed bag of silvers and Chinooks.

Quizzed on the action with stripers, Tony reported Andy Wurz of San Anselmo took two bass of 26 and 23 pounds. While I was talking with Tony Caruso on Sunday around noon, angler Wurz had just come in with a 32-pounder.

Trout planting crews will stock 27 waters in 12 central coast region counties this week. Waters by counties are: Mendocino — East Branch of the Russian River and Cleone Lake; Lake — Pillsbury Lake, Anderson Creek, Kelsey Creek and Upper Blue Lake; Napa — Hennessey Lake impoundment; Sonoma — Lake Ralphine; Marin — Rodeo Lagoon, Lagunitas Reservoir; San Francisco — Lake Merced; Alameda — Alameda Creek; San Mateo — Pescadero Creek; Santa Clara — Stevens Creek Reservoir; Santa Cruz — Fall Creek, Corralitos Creek, San Lorenzo River, San Vicente Creek and Loch Lomond Reservoir; Monterey — Los Padres Reservoir, Carmel River, lower Arroyo Saco Creek and Big Sur River; San Luis Obispo — Chorro Reservoir, Laguna Lake, Lopez Creek and the Lower Nacimiento River.

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1917 more than nine and ane-half million American men between 21 and 30 registered for the draft in World War I.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Copy Right Animal In Playing A Slam; Take Duck This Time

If you have watched a cat jump you are familiar with the principle of drawing back in order to jump higher. That principle may not occur to you when you think of a duck, but it should—at the bridge table.

RUFFS CLUB

After winning the trump lead South cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. He got back with the queen of diamonds to ruff another club.

Now came the problem of returning to the South hand. Since there were no trumps in dummy, declarer cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. Then he led out his last two trumps in the hope of exhausting those held by the enemy.

Unfortunately for declarer, the trumps broke 4-2. West eventually got his last trump and two club tricks. Down two.

MIXED MENAGERIE

By now you must have seen the importance of the duck in jumping higher. After winning the first trump trick, South should duck a diamond. That is, he leads the six of diamonds from his hand and plays a low diamond from dummy.

East's best return is a trump, which South wins. Declarer cashes the ace of clubs, ruffs one club in dummy and returns to his hand with the queen of diamonds. Now South draws the rest of the trumps, discarding low hearts from the dummy.

HOW TO JUMP

The last five cards in the dummy are the ace-king of hearts and the ace-king-five of diamonds, all good. South reaches a very high point indeed, since he scores 1,730 points, all by knowing how to jump with a duck.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♥—10 7
♦—7 3
♣—K J 10 9 2.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs.

Despite the strong club support your hand is worth no higher bid. Some experts would respond one spade, on the theory that any four-card major suit at all is biddable; but most experts would avoid mentioning this regrettable suit.

Secondary Sites For Island Hotels

HONOLULU (AP) — Off-Waikiki hotel development is assured by the very scarcity of prime hotel sites remaining near the beach, says Clifton Terry, president of the Bank of Hawaii.

Terry says only five prime hotel sites remain in the Waikiki area and three of them are already committed for development. And, Terry adds, efficient hotel operators will not be interested in secondary sites.

PROBABLY THE LARGEST single Xerox copying contract in Marin has been made by Barbara Lange of Secretarial Services Unlimited in Tiburon. She will produce 15,000 pieces of technical material for Tiburon management consultant E. B. Cochran, to be used in seminar workshop manuals.

MRS. MARY C. CROXALL of Tiburon has been recognized as the first woman representative of Westamerica Securities, Inc. for having placed $1 million of mutual funds with investors since she became associated with the firm. Husband John M. Croxall is a regional vice president of Westamerica.

Buildings are joined by a skylighted entrance court and were designed by architect Donald Keith Olsen for 10 professional offices.

Market Closes Low On News Of Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today as traders did some precautionary selling pending overnight developments in the condition of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Analysts expressed themselves pleased with the way the market had handled a potentially emotional situation arising from the shooting of Kennedy. Prices firmed around midsession, then drifted off slowly.

Wide gains were made by some specially situated issues, among them ACF Industries, Union Tank Cars and Williams Brothers.

Brunswick, up ⅞ at 18¼; Goodrich, up 3 ¾at 62¾; IBM, off 6¾ at 363; ACF Industries, up 12¼ at 59¾; Union Tank Car, up 4 at 91; U.S. Gypsum, off 1⅜ at 82⅞; Xerox, off 1½ at 305½; Williams Brothers, up 15¾ at 87¾; and Litton Industries, off ½ at 82⅛.

Volume for the first four hours was 11.57 million shares, compared with 13.33 million for the like period yesterday.

After a mild loss at the opening, the list moved irregularly higher. As the session wore on, however, an easier tone developed as traders became more cautious.

Outstanding moves were made by ACF Industries, up 12 points, and Williams Brothers, up 13, on news of their proposed merger.

Union Tank Car held a 4-point gain, and Litton Industries was a fractional gainer on word of their preliminary agreement to merge on an exchange-of-shares basis.

Among other active stocks, gains of a point or so were scored by Bunker Ramo (new) and American Photocopy, while Goodrich was ahead more than 3 points, its volume boosted by a huge block of 232,000 shares.

Heavily traded losers included Occidental Petroleum and Harvey Aluminum, each down a point or so.

Boeing spurted 3 points and Homestake more than 2. General Motors, Phelps Dodge, Polaroid, Standard Oil of Indiana and Liggett & Myers rose a point.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Cigarette Paper Cancer Test Told

NEW YORK (BW) — American Safety Equipment Corp. announced that it has received a final laboratory report on a two-year program for testing the biological and toxicological effects of smoke from cigarettes made with paper treated by the company's patented process.

American Safety said the report "indicates that smoke from cigarettes made with treated paper produced about one-third fewer tumors and cancers in mice than smoke from cigarettes made with untreated paper."

"Based upon the most recent report," American Safety said it is "considering possible means for making cigarettes using treated paper available to the smoking public."
